Surprise Tank Thrust Hurls Reds Back 8 Mi. In East Korea

NAB FUGITIVE LEADER OF U.S. REDS

Chinese Flee Before U. S. Task Force

Green Troops Routed; Site for New Truce Talks Is Prepared

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Oct. 10—(AP) — A powerful tank-led American task force slashed eight miles through green Chinese troops in a surprise attack on the eastern front today.

Chinese "fled in every direction," a tank officer reported.

Front line dispatches said the tanks clanked up a river bed trail prepared in advance by American engineers. On the way they shot up Red bunkers on hilltops near Heartbreak Ridge. A full regiment of infantrymen—about 3,750 men and officers at full strength — advanced on the flanks of the tanks.

Other Americans were involved in heavy fighting elsewhere in the East. One U. S. Second Division unit was forced to withdraw from a ridge by a counterattack of 1,000 Reds. Other Second Division forces hacked out gains of a few hundred yards.

In the West U. S. First Division cavalrymen beat back a 1,000-man Chinese counterattack in the early morning darkness, then drove ahead a short distance against deeply entrenched Chinese.

B-29 Superforts blasted two airfields at Pyongyang, the Korean Red capital, with 130,000 pounds of high explosives in the continuing campaign to keep Communists from basing their growing air force in Korea.

Air Power Grows

The Reds now have "considerably in excess" of 250 MIG-15 jets operating from their Manchurian bases, said Lt. Gen. O. P. Weyland, commander of the Far East Air Forces. He indicated ceaseless United Nations air attacks influences Communists in agreeing to resume truce talks.

Liaison officers Wednesday picked out a new armistice meeting place in no-man's-land. It is near Panmunjom, Red check point six air miles from Kaesong where the Communists broke off cease-fire negotiations Aug. 23. Liaison officers scheduled another meeting Thursday.

No date for resuming truce talks was announced. But the U.N negotiating team reassembled in Korea and service troops went to Kaesong to move Allied communications equipment to the new location.

The smashing armored thrust near Heartbreak Ridge was the deepest penetration of Red lines made by the Allies in the month-long battle among the eastern crags.

Caught by Surprise

A frontline dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Stan Carter said the U. S. task force caught inexperienced Chinese by surprise as they were relieving battered North Korean units.

CEASE-FIRE TALKS are to be resumed at a place marked in the map above with a star. The mud village site for the new conferences is Red-controlled but lies only a mile above the "No Man's Land" village of Songhyon, which Ridgway had nominated in his Sept. 27 message as the possible site for the armistice talks.

Has Fond Memories of City, Where Part of 1st Movie Was Filmed

Jeanne Crain Recalls Days Here

Hollywood Star Welcomed By City Officials

By FRANCES HAAS

Miss Jeanne Crain, an accomplished Hollywood screen star, made a return visit to Marion yesterday.

Her first and only previous trip to Marion was in 1944 when she was sent to Marion on location for the filming of portions of her first picture, 'Home In Indiana."

The purpose of her brief but pleasant visit yesterday to this city was to better acquaint local persons with those of the Hollywood movie industry, in connection with a nationwide goodwill tour which more than 100 film stars are currently making.

With Miss Crain on her trip here were her husband and Ernest Pascall, a Hollywood screen writer. Their tour of Ohio cities this week marks the opening of "Movietime, U. S. A.", which celebrates the 50th anniversary of the opening of Talley's Electric Theater in Los Angeles, the first motion picture theater in the country.

Given Key To City

After Miss Crain and Mr Pascall were met at the city limits by representatives of the local theaters, they were driven through town in a convertible with police escort. In a brief ceremony at the courthouse, before a crowd of about 300 persons, a welcome was extended the Hollywood personalities by Mayor Robinson, Miss Crain was presented the "key to the city" along with a bouquet o' yellow mums.

A luncheon in Miss Crain's honor followed immediately at Hotel Harding.

About 35 persons were present for the luncheon, including city officials, Mayor Robinson, Police Captain Clyde Hardin, Fire Chief Owen Sifritt, Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest, along with representatives of the local schools, the church, the local theaters and Theater Guild union, the newspaper and radio station.

Furnace Blast Shakes House

The explosion of a gas furnace in the cellar of the C. Lawrence Kline home at 561 East Center street awakened other residents of the neighborhood about 2 a.m. today. The explosion did not result in a fire, although firemen from the Central station were called to the scene.

The smoke stack and the door were blown off the furnace. Partitions were loosened on the first floor of the house and in the dining room dishes were knocked from shelves and silverware fell off the buffet. Damage has not been estimated.

Fuses in the electric box were also loosened, so that the house was without light until firemen arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Kline and their son, Lawrence, 8, were sleeping on the second floor when the explosion woke them up.

Probers Call Secretary Of Treasury

Seek Snyder's Views On Reported Scandals In Revenue Bureau

WASHINGTON, Oct 10—(AP)—House investigators digging into widening reports of scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau called today for the views of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder.

Meanwhile, bemused members of a House ways and means subcommittee attempted to take stock of a welter of conflicting testimony, charges, counter-charges and denials involving alleged irregularities. One committee member said the investigation was taking on a "fairy tale" quality.

The Treasury chief, under whose administrative control the nation's tax collection service falls, follows up Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap, who testified last week he had been given a free hand by President Truman to clean house.

Central figure thus far in the frequently confused and complex hearings has been genial, loquacious James P. Finnegan, self-styled "helpful" collector of internal revenue at St. Louis who resigned last April when his outside activities came under congressional and government scrutiny.

Boston May Be Next

The committee may shortly shift its sights to Boston, and possibly later to Detroit, San Francisco and some other thus far unnamed collectors' offices which are still under investigation.

Chairman King (D-Calif) said the committee would decide this week whether to go into the Boston situation. Collector Denis W. Delaney is under indictment

Campaign for Funds Starts Oct. 16

New Community Chest Agency Will Help Solve Problems of Families

This is one of a series of articles on Red Feather Agencies participating in the Marion County Community Chest. They are published to show the importance of Marion County residents' contributions to the Community Chest fund campaign scheduled to begin Oct. 16.

PERHAPS YOU, yourself, will not have a pressing problem in your family next year which requires the help and expert advice of a trained social worker.

But your neighbor might have a problem with her child which desperately needs outside assistance. Or the folks down the street may be faced with a budget matter which might threaten the sanctity of their home—and which could be easily solved if they consulted the right persons.

Starting with 1952 Marion will have the right persons — the Marion County Family Service Society, a new Red Feather Agency, to whom anyone in Marion City or County can take his family or individual problems. Opening of the new agency was approved by the Community Foundation trustees after more than a year of research and investigation.

EVERYBODY IN the community pays the cost when nagging personal and family problems go unsolved. That's why the Community Foundation board of trustees has established the Family Service Society. Its experienced help will be available to anybody who wants it. The function of the society is to aid in any problem of social adjustment—family relations, marital conflict, and budget management, job difficulties, and neighborhood living.

The new Red Feather Agency will be directed by an unpaid board of trustees who will be elected by all contributors to last year's Red Feather Drive. Ballots for this purpose are enclosed in a personal letter from the Chest's steering committee being mailed tomorrow.

SOCIAL WORKERS of the new Family Service Society will call on families referred to them by doctors, the courts, ministers, and others. Their assistance will not result in giving away funds, food, or clothing except in dire emergency. When help of this type is required, they will contact other Red Feather Agencies, organized for this purpose.

Through the efforts of the steering committee chairman, E. J. Kinter, and members of the committee, J. E. Oliphant, Francis Huber, Dr. Frederick Rea, and Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, the purpose and importance of the Family Service Society in Marion was

Gus Hall Is Picked Up In Mexico

Former Ohio Leader Turned Over to FBI At Laredo, Tex.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 10 —(AP)—Mexican secret police whisked Gus Hall, 41, national secretary of the U. S. Communist party, across the border here early today into the waiting arms of the FBI.

The Mexican Communist party had launched a fight against Hall's return to the United States. He had been picked up in Mexico yesterday.

Hall is one of three top U. S. Communists who jumped bail in early July after they were convicted of conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

They were among 11 top Communists convicted under the Smith Act. Robert Thompson, Gilbert Green, and Henry Winston are still at large. The Civil Rights Congress which put up the four men's bail, lost its money when they skipped.

An international search began when the four failed to show up to begin serving their prison terms. A spokesman for the Mexican Communist party had said it would ask the Mexican government to let Hall stay in Mexico as a political refugee.

Newsman Watches Scene

But early today he was brought across the border. Newsman Tom Green of the Laredo Times, watched as five men in an old model four-door Plymouth sedan with Mexican license plates, drove across the International Bridge here at 3 a.m. Four of the men looked like Mexican officers; the other man looked like Hall.

In Washington, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI, announced Hall's arrest here. The FBI said he was being taken to jail immediately.

Mexican officials returned Hall to the U. S. only 23 hours after he was arrested in Mexico City. The Mexican Communists had called a meeting of their executive committee today.

The FBI didn't say where Hall was being held. Federal prisoners here are kept in the Webb County jail here, but jail officers weren't talking. The resident FBI agent, L. C. Taylor, wasn't available for immediate comment.

The quick movement of Hall across the border took the matter out of the hands of Mexican authorities.

Attempted Secrecy

Mexican authorities had tried to keep the arrest of Hall a secret until he was out of the country. The Mexican Communist party announced it.

Hall and the other fugitives are American-born but Moscow-trained. Hall was the party's Ohio state chairman before he became national secretary.

All had been to Russia at one time or the other. When the four fled there were rumors they had returned to Russia or gone underground to form a secret politburo or headquarters.

Four other Communists, members of the party's "second-team" of leaders are also fugitives. They and 17 others were indicted with conspiracy to teach and advocate violent revolution.

The U. S. Supreme Court Monday refused to reconsider its decision against the 11 top Reds. The decision, last June, upheld the convictions and constitutionality of the Smith Act.

Seven of the 11 are serving prison terms. Among them are Eugene Dennis and John Gates. Dennis was general secretary of the party. Gates ran the Communist Daily Worker. They are in Atlanta federal penitentiary. All the 11 but Robert Thompson were given five years. He was given special treatment as a war veteran.

Banned as Bondsman

Since the four jumped bail a New York federal judge has banned the Civil Rights Congress' bail fund from acting as bondsman in any case in a New York district court.

Green said Hall came across the border without handcuffs. Hall

Truck Plunges Into Ditch

Richwood Driver Killed Near LaRue

Raymond V. Dutton, 33, of Richwood, son of Mr and Mrs. Thomas R. Dutton of Marion, died yesterday shortly after the truck he was driving went off the road on a curve on Route 37 a mile south of LaRue at 3:40 p.m. and knocked down two telephone poles.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Marion City Hospital. Dr E. H. Morgan, county coroner, listed a fractured skull as the cause of death.

He died enroute to the Marion City Hospital in the Winters ambulance of Richwood. The ambulance developed motor trouble near the Marion Industries plant on Route 95 and the body was transferred to the Boyd ambulance.

Implement Co. Employe

Mr. Dutton was employed as a mechanic by the Richwood Implement Co. and was driving south in a truck belonging to the company. He had been delivering a cultivator and mowing machine northeast of LaRue and was returning to Richwood with a used cultivator which the company had received as a trade-in.

The cab of the truck was demolished. The truck was hauled away by the Ford Garage of Richwood.

He was born in Brush Ridge May 5, 1918. His parents, Thomas R. and Orpha Garver Dutton, are living at 897 North State street, Marion.

Wife, Children Survive

He also is survived by his widow, the former Beatrice Reames, whom he married in Richwood April 26, 1941, and daughters, Carolyn Fern and Mary Ann. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Frances Jones, and a brother, Thomas Dutton Jr., both of Akron.

He was a member of Geran-Thomas Post No. 3313, V.F.W.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the Winter Funeral Home in Richwood. Rev. Robert Turner of the First Baptist Church in Richwood will officiate. Burial will be in Claiborne Cemetery. Friends may call at the home, 29 Wood street in Richwood, after 7 tonight.

Gen. Mark Clark's Son Wounded in Korea

EASTERN FRONT, KOREA, Oct 7—(Delayed by censors)—(AP)—Capt. William D. Clark, 26, son of Gen. Mark Clark, was wounded seriously today west of "Heartbreak Ridge" by Communist mortar fire.

Clark, operations officer of a battalion in the U. S. Ninth Infantry Regiment, was hit in the back and chest. His unit was attacking a Red hill at the entrance to the Mundung Valley.

MAY BE MISSING GIRL

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10—(AP)—Scalp fragments and strands of blonde hair fished from Lake Erie were analyzed by police today in the belief they might be from 10-year-old Beverly Potts who disappeared here Aug. 24. The Coast Guard began dragging last night after a fisherman brought up a bit of red cotton cloth similar to that in panties Beverly wore the night she vanished.

STUDENT FOUND DEAD

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 10—(AP)—A University of Michigan student, Lorin A. Ulm, 18, of Dayton, O., was found dead in bed today at the Chi Phi fraternity. Washtenaw County coroner, Dr. Edwin C. Ganzhorn, theorized it was from natural causes. He said there was nothing to indicate foul play.

KOREA CASUALTIES SOAR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—(AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 69,382 today, an increase of 1,732 since last week.

Sen. Dirksen Endorses Taft In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Oct 10—(AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) added his voice to the mushrooming G.O.P. Taft-for-President movement last night before a Republican crowd here in the Ohio senator's home town.

Dirksen's endorsement of Sen Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) came at a $100-a-plate dinner attended by 825 wealthy party faithfuls. The speech helped raise $75,000 for the party's treasury.

The Illinois senator attacked the "Me too'ism" of the unsuccessful 1948 Republican presidential campaign and said the party can succeed in 1952 with the right kind of "crusading zeal."

He gave this as his criteria for a presidential candidate:

"Number one, he must be an American. Number two, I want him to be a Republican—and you

Car Owner Still Has One Wheel To Go On

Paul LaMosh of 197½ North Main street told police yesterday someone jacked his car up, placed it on blocks and stole three wheels and tires some time since Monday.

They were valued at $60. The car was parked at the rear of the LaMosh residence.

Marion G.I. Gets Breakfast In Bed, Day Off on Birthday

It must be so—the Army has changed. If ever a "Dog Face's" dream came true, it did yesterday at Fort Hayes, Columbus, for Cpl. Robert E. Price of Marion.

Cpl. Price was awakened at the unheard of hour of 10.30 a.m. to sniff the aroma of frying bacon and eggs and was served breakfast in bed. He probably was the first able-bodied G.I. ever to receive this treatment.

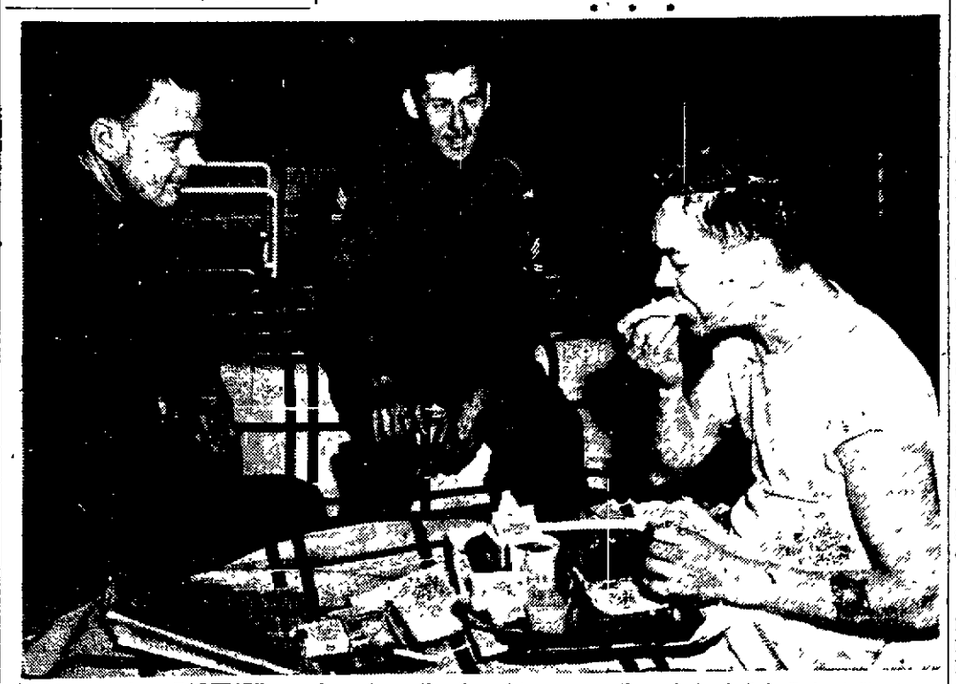
First Sergeant George Williams of Columbus and Sergeant Charles A. Flick of Wilmington served the meal to the corporal.

How come?

Capt. William H. Brinnon, Cpl Price's commanding officer, has ordered that all men in his unit shall have breakfast in bed on their birthday, and sleep as late as they like. Price was 23 yesterday.

Cpl Price, prior to enlisting in the Army in 1946, attended Harding High School. Following his discharge after returning from Japan, he re-enlisted and has been stationed at Fort Hayes.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Glen Price of Marion. A sister, Jeanne Price, is employed as an operator at the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. and another sister Donna Price attends secretarial school in Columbus. Cpl. Price has two brothers, William and Richard.



"I MUST BE DREAMING" may have been the thought crossing the mind of Cpl. Robert E. Price of Marion yesterday when he was served breakfast in bed at Fort Hayes, Columbus. He is pictured above being served by his top sergeant and another non-commissioned officer. The Marion soldier was the first beneficiary of a new plan at Fort Hayes in which soldiers are served breakfast in bed on their birthday and given the day off. Cpl. Price was 23 yesterday.

Rev. Dickey Talks at School Of Religion

"Democracy Begins At Home," Pastor Tells Audience

Second session of the Marion County School of Religion was held Monday night at First E U B Church, with Rev. Edwin H Dickey of Bellefontaine as forum speaker. His subject was "Democracy Begins in the Home" He is a brother of Lester L Dickey, superintendent of Marion public schools, and is pastor of First Methodist Church at Bellefontaine The six classes of the school met following the forum hour.

Presiding was the dean of the school, Rev Evan Owens of Prospect Street Methodist Church, and the host pastor, Rev Don Hochstettler read Scripture and offered prayer to open the forum period

In his opening remarks, Rev Dickey gave the definition of democracy, from the original meaning of the Greek words from which "democracy" is derived, "the power of the government in the hands of the people." This is in conflict with the ideology of "government by the few for the few, the right of government granted only by the state," he said

These two ideologies are found in their basic forms among families in their homes, he showed "Children actually learn to live as a free people in the home where they are loved by two people who love each other, where they are taught by the example of mutual trust and understanding" He pointed out that there must be a balance of authority, avoiding dictatorship by the parents, and freedom exercised by the family members in their choices in life

The American home is in peril today, he said, from separation and uprooting through husbands and fathers needed and called to military service, through divorce, and through other causes Solidarity of the home is much needed today, the solidarity that comes from prayer, the knowledge of each member of the family that "someone cares," that there is a concern, one for another, with love as the guiding principle of the home.

Observance Of Engineers' Week Planned

Marion Chapter Of Society To Mark Week in February

Observance of National Engineers' Week will be held Feb. 17 to 23, and will be marked by special programs and ceremonies commemorating the lives of famous American engineers, according to announcement by Jack F. Weis, chief electrical engineer of Marion Power Shovel Co. and president of the Marion Chapter, Ohio Society of Professional Engineers.

Details of the observance are still in the formative stage. It is possible that a sizable display of actual machinery will be staged during Engineers' Week at the Marion Coliseum. Mr. Weis stated that several industrial manufacturers in the area have expressed willingness to participate in the plan.

During the 1950 Engineers' Week observance, the Marion Chapter held a photographic display at Hotel Harding.

Plans Made at Meeting

Plans for the annual Engineers' Week observance were made at the October meeting of the Marion Chapter Monday evening at Hal's Farm House, a mile south of Delaware.

Representatives of the Caterpillar Tractor Co. of Peoria, Ill., furnished the program, consisting of talks motion pictures, and slides. The program followed a dinner.

In a brief business session, Mr. Weis received a report by Rex Kilbourn, plant engineer of Marion Power Shovel Co., regarding a recent meeting of the board of trustees of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers.

Marion Chapter voted against any increase in the dues of the national society and deferred until the next meeting action on a proposal regarding retirement of engineers. Mr. Weis and Secretary-Treasurer Francis W. Norris stressed the importance of prompt payment of dues of the members of Marion Chapter and of giving increased action in the membership campaign of the four-county organization.

Programs Outlined

Loy D. Rhoads, program chairman, outlined the forthcoming programs. At the meeting Nov. 19, changed from Nov. 12, a dinner-meeting will not be held and members and guests will make an inspection trip to the Osgood Co. plant and the Commercial Steel Castings Co. In December the Ohio Society president will be the speaker. The Timken Roller Bearing Co. will furnish the program in January, and the Fairfield Engineering Co. in February.

The March meeting will feature a speaker from the Pure Oil Co. Chapter members and guests will make an inspection tour of the McMillen Feed Mills Co. plant in April. In May, the engineers will make a visit to the Ohio Edison Co. The June meeting will be the annual ladies' night dinner-meeting.

Jeanne Crain

at the hotel, recalled fond memories of her two-week stay in Marion back in 1944 when she was getting her start in Hollywood, and added that she was very much surprised, and delighted, so many people from here remembered her and her movie work in Marion seven years ago.

Filmed at Fairgrounds

The Marion County fairgrounds was the scene for the film shots made here for the picture "Home In Indiana," the story background of which concerned racing.

She explained that many sites for the location scenes were viewed and studied, but that Marion was picked because of the scenery which surrounds the fairgrounds.

Starred in "Home In Indiana" with Miss Crain were June Haver, Lon McAllister and Walter Brennan.

Speaking of the various pictures she has made during her career, Miss Crain said her favorite role was that in "Margie," which was released in 1946. She added that her ambition in the movies is to play "Diane" in "Seventh Heaven," if her studio decides to make the picture.

Miss Crain's latest release, "People Will Talk," in which she is co-starred with Cary Grant, has been playing here at the New Ohio Theater. It concludes a week's engagement tonight.

Mother of Three

Jeanne Crain, who in real life is Mrs. Paul Brinkman, is about 5 feet, 5 inches tall and has light brown hair. She has three sons, Paul Frederick, 4½, Michael Anthony, who will be 3 in January, and Timothy Peter, just 14 months old.

Miss Crain's husband, who is in the manufacturing business in California, manufacturing furniture in addition to radar equipment for the government, is accompanying her on her tour of this section of the country.

On her visit here, she was attired in a gray wool suit with which she wore a silver necklace and earrings, and a gray hat trimmed with red ribbon and a red feather.

A native of California, Miss Crain was never out of that state until she came to Ohio to make her first movie.

From Marion, Miss Crain and her party were to go to Kenton, Bellefontaine and Lima yesterday. They came here from Columbus and Delaware.

Arrangements for the event here were in charge of three local theater managers, Don Utz, Arthur Brown and Fred Thacker of the Palace, New Ohio and Drive-In Theaters, respectively

What Is a Worker's Handicap?

THIS week has been set aside by official proclamations throughout the whole country to remind people to think and act more intelligently about handicapped workers.

The purpose is to find as many jobs for these workers to perform as they are able to perform. There is an interesting thing about that.

A handicap is any disadvantage that makes success more difficult. A golfer may be handicapped, for example, to even up the terms of competition with less skilled golfers. Or a race horse may be given a handicap to keep a race from being one sided.

Many human beings are handicapped by circumstances beyond their control sometimes so heavily they cannot hope to compete. National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week is intended to call favorable attention only to those workers whose handicaps are great enough to be a disadvantage without being great enough to bar them from success. The fact is that many handicapped workers, because of their handicaps, work so hard they become more valuable than they might have been without them.

To center local attention on the importance of observing this week, Mayor Robinson has signed a proclamation supplementing those previously issued by President Truman and governors of the various states. The mayor urges all employers in Marion to join in the national movement to provide opportunities for handicapped persons capable of performing useful service.

That this will be done to the fullest extent possible is a certainty, just as it has been in the past. Marion industries, in cooperation with the local office of the Ohio State Employment Service, have always been in the forefront of the movement, not just during the one special week set apart for placing emphasis on it, but throughout the year. One year the program here was so outstanding that it received national recognition. Probably in no other community in the country has the value of the abilities of physically handicapped workers been demonstrated more effectively than in Marion. This has provided not only deserved opportunities for the workers but has also given substantial aid to the city's industrial production.

Autumn Pledge

HEREWITH, a pledge to stay out of arguments this year about Indian Summer. There is no need to argue about the matter anyway.

An unsigned letter from a reader who identifies himself as "quarter Indian" points out that his remote ancestors "originated" Indian summer, which seems plausible.

Our correspondent then assumes the role of expert and reports that "you always have snow before you have Indian Summer, and we call the snow our squaw winter. After that we have about a week of nice weather and this is Indian Summer. Another way of telling is that this is also the last of the gnats. They always swarm in bushes before the second snow."

So wait until gnats, then no gnats. That means Indian Summer is over. Wait until it snows. That means it has started. In between the first snow and the last gnats is Indian Summer—phht!

There Could Be No War

PREMIER STALIN'S flat statement that the Soviet Union does not contemplate aggression and is developing atomic warfare for defense only would mean, if Americans could believe it, that war had become impossible.

The reason is that only two nations now have the power to wage war on a large scale—the United States and the Soviet Union. They are the only major powers in a world which counted the United States, Germany, Great Britain, France, Japan and even Italy as major powers before the outbreak of World War II. The Soviet Union at that time was not so regarded.

Though other nations might undertake war, they could not carry on war without the support of the United States or the Soviet Union. That is being illustrated in the Korean war and would be illustrated by any other war which might occur.

Atomic warfare is not defensive in nature. Its usefulness is in attack. The Soviet Union is preparing to attack the United States when it develops atomic bombs, just as the bombs being accumulated by the United States are for use on the Soviet Union, if and when this country is attacked. No American can believe Stalin when he says the Soviet Union is not contemplating aggression because Stalin knows that the United States is not contemplating aggression.

He knows that because he and his advisers have informed themselves thoroughly about this Republic's affairs and must know, if they have learned anything, that the United States cannot go to war unless attacked. The sole reason for the world's unsettled condition is the fact there remains one government with both the power and the will to become an aggressor—the Soviet Union. The only other government with the power to become an aggressor is the United States, which does not have the will.

New Jab at Labor Act

By David Lawrence

NLRB Gives Taft-Hartley Ruling

WASHINGTON

MEMBERS OF Congress who have all along believed that the National Labor Relations Board was emasculating the Taft-Hartley Act by its rulings and decisions are more than ever convinced of this by the latest opinion handed down by the board restricting the right of employers to talk to their employes.

Under the old Wagner Act, the board ruled that an employer couldn't address his employes on union matters during working hours. The Circuit Court of Appeals upheld that decision, so Congress in 1947 rewrote the labor-management act specifically to prevent an employer from being charged with an "unfair labor practice" for what he said to his employes at any time.

LAWRENCE

Now the present board has found a capricious way to get around the law by holding that the employer was guilty of an unfair labor practice for refusing to permit the union organizers to speak to the assembled employes during working hours on a parity with the employer. The board, seemingly with its tongue in its cheek, said it wasn't concerned with the free speech of the employer or what he said but solely with his refusal to grant facilities for the union organizers.

What it could mean, of course, is that the National Labor Relations Board now has decided to take jurisdiction over the facilities that are provided to employes in advance of an election to hear the issues, and presumably — if the board is to be fair about it—the employer must be given access to all union meetings where any issue affecting his employes may be discussed.

THE ARGUMENT made by the board in its ruling was that the employes couldn't be assembled in any other way and that the meeting held by the employer was held just before the election. Actually the meeting was held six days before the voting and there was ample time for the union to hold other meetings of its own and mail out its literature.

It was a 4-to-1 decision in a case that arose in the Bonwit Teller Department Stores in New York. Member Reynolds, who dissented, pointed out that the new law—the Taft-Hartley Act—was adopted "with assurances that its passage would guarantee free speech to employers in labor disputes." He said:

"Nowhere in the act or in its legislative history, however, does it appear that a concomitant of this right is the obligation to provide a forum of debate for unions. Indeed, hinging an employer's right to speak upon his readiness to make available the means by which his arguments, views, and opinions can be nullified, effectively emasculates Section 8 (C) as it applies to the right of an employer to address his employes."

THE MAJORITY of the board gave as a guide for future cases a vague definition:

"We believe that the right of employes, guaranteed by Section 7 of the act, freely to select or reject representation by a labor organization necessarily encompasses the right to hear both sides of the story under circumstances which reasonably approximate equality."

But what are the circumstances that "reasonably approximate equality?" Does that cover equal space in union labor newspapers and periodicals which devote much of their space to vitriolic attacks on employers? Does this new rule mean access to union halls for employers? Does it mean that unions now can be penalized for circulating scurrilous literature during campaigns? Is the National Labor Relations Board to become the censor of the facilities afforded "both sides" in an election, since the law plainly forbids it to be censor of what is actually said?

DURING THE period when the Taft-Hartley Law was under discussion in Congress, the famous Clark case involving almost identical circumstances with the Bonwit Teller case was specifically repudiated by the insertion of language designed to overcome a previous board's ruling. There were predictions then that the board would find ways to get around the law. Unfortunately, those predictions now have been fulfilled and employers might as well realize that the present board is not going to be fair in interpreting the existing law and that only when present members are impeached or new ones appointed under another Administration will impartiality be assured and freedom of speech upheld in labor disputes.

Another Blow at Britain

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

THE tail of the British Lion has been given another agonizing twist in the Middle East, this time by the Egyptians

They threatened Monday to drive the British out of the Suez Canal area and the Sudan. It was sharp timing.

They acted while the prestige of the British was hitting a new low in the Middle East as a result of the oil dispute with Iran.

Only last week the British suffered one of their worst humiliations when the last of their oil technicians were kicked out of Iran.

James Marlow

This month the British voters will decide between Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government and Winston Churchill's Conservatives.

Undoubtedly the Iranian fiasco will hurt Laborite hopes of remaining in office. This Egyptian move will hurt them further.

When he was prime minister during the war, Churchill said he had not become His Majesty's first minister to preside over the liquidation of the empire.

It's possible but questionable that if Churchill had remained in office Britain's power and prestige would have fared better. The voters replaced him with Attlee in 1945. At any rate, Attlee must stand the blame.

THE BRITISH have been in Egypt, in one way or another, since they shipped Napoleon in 1801. They got a share of the Suez Canal in 1875.

They formed a protectorate over the country in 1914 when Egypt ceased to be part of the Turkish Empire. This protectorate ended in 1922 when the Egyptian kingdom was established.

Still, the British have kept a hand in Egypt. In particular, two treaties with the British have been a festering sore with the Egyptians. One gives the British joint rule with them over the Sudan.

The other, a mutual defense treaty supposed to run until 1956, allows the British to keep troops and planes in the canal area to guard it.

The Egyptians want the Sudan solely under Egyptian control. And they argue they can do by themselves all the guarding the canal needs. So desire to get rid of the British, and talk of breaking the treaties, is not new.

But Monday Egypt's Prime Minister Mustafa Nahas Pasha, leader of the Nationalist party, introduced in a cheering parliament bills to cancel out the treaties. He said Egypt isn't going to wait any longer.

AT THIS POINT the two unanswered questions are: (1) Will Egypt go through with this threat, and try to drive the British out by force, if necessary? (2) Will the British let the Egyptians get away with it? The British blustered about handling the Iranians but in the end trotted out mildly when told to go.

Nevertheless, in London the British Foreign Office said Britain would refuse to recognize any Egyptian cancellation of the treaties with Britain.

Still, the United States and the other members of the Atlantic Pact nations—which last month brought Turkey and Greece into their alliance — have a stake in what happens to the Suez Canal.

It's tied in with any defense the Atlantic Alliance hopes to build in the Middle East against Russia. With Britain, a member of the alliance, in control of the canal, a short-cut route to India and the Pacific through the Mediterranean would be kept open.

What would Egypt do about keeping that canal safe for the Allies, if she had full control? Egyptians have professed friendship with the West in preference to a tie-up with Russia.

At the least this Middle East area of the world—as a result of the Iranian episode, which may force Iran into economic links with Russia, and this latest Egyptian move—is a matter of increasing concern for the Allies.

So You Want To Argue

By TRUMAN TWILL

EVERY time there's a world series, the same gloom-goons hang their lower lips and worry because the rest of us are not worrying as much as we should.

This year even the White House got into the act by announcing in the midst of the National League playoff game that the Soviet Union had set off another atomic bomb. Since the announcement could have been made a week from some Tuesday just as well, it only can be deduced that high authority was trying to pull the cork on a baseball-happy citizenry and keep it mindful of its grim problems.

But that is where the proposition falters; atomic explosions are not recognized by a baseball-happy citizenry as a problem. Baseball fans as such are no more concerned with atomic bombs than most of the scientists who make atomic bombs are concerned about baseball.

If you want to argue, here is one regulation baseball against a lump of fissionable uranium that the ball fans are just as right as the scientists. Before anyone jumps up in this world to proclaim what is important, he had better take a deep breath and think better of it.

Particularly had he better think better of it if he is going to borrow his ideas from the cult of terrorists whose preoccupation right now is to make human flesh creep. These creatures are horrible. They are maniacal. They would like to kill humankind. But they are no more important than millions of human beings equally preoccupied with making existence on earth better for humankind. It just so happens that the flesh-creepers get more attention for what they say and do, because they are in cahoots with governing officials who have a keen appreciation of the uses of terror in making unwieldy masses of human beings easier to handle.

Horse feathers to lip-hangers who go around at world series time worrying because people are having fun. Horse feathers to them when they complain because everybody will not crawl under a damp rock and moan and groan about whither mankind.

They have been with us always, these grimmies, but right now they are rolling their eyes and gritting their teeth more terrifyingly than ever before, because they never had nuclear fission in their arsenal of stuff to make flesh creep with before. It is their best chance since they berated their fellow knuckleheads for not worrying enough about Halley's Comet, which was going to knock old earth to glory and all humankind with it.

After the world series, the moaners will yowl because people are having fun at football games. They will try to make a wet smack out of Thanksgiving. And Christmas—how they hate Christmas! Everybody going a little out of his way to brighten up the dark corners . . . Santa Claus . . . good will toward men. There'll be no more good will if the flesh-creepers ever take charge. Everybody then will sit around 4 hours a day in a pool of cold blood and howl, that's what. The ball parks will be full of bleached skulls and for diversion the survivors will sit in cellars and count old bones.

Congress Quiz

Q—Why is Congress giving 24 U. S. destroyer escort ships to other countries?

A—Senator Lester C. Hunt (D) of Wyoming said Sept. 5 transfer of the ships was "obviously to our advantage," for in the event of "an all-out emergency the ships will be at the right place at the right time." The transfers, made under the Mutual Defense Assistance Program's provision on "excess" equipment, require congressional endorsement. House approval came July 3; senators acted affirmatively Sept. 5.

Q—I want to buy a tractor and other farm machinery next spring. Will I have any trouble getting them?

A—You might. Witnesses at a Senate agriculture committee hearing Sept. 25 warned that unless production is stepped up there will be a shortage of farm machinery for 1952 crops Curtailed steel allotments and a "black market in steel" were blamed by farm implement manufacturers testifying.

Q—Can my state publish the names of people receiving welfare aid?

A—No, unless it is willing to forfeit the federal contribution to such aid. The Social Security Act forbids the states to publish the names of welfare recipients. Because Indiana passed a law requiring such publication, it stands to lose $22,000,000 in federal aid this year.

Q—I was in the Senate visitors' gallery Sept. 13 when Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York came on the floor and talked with senators. How could he do that?

A—Governors of states have the privilege of the Senate floor and can visit there when the Senate is in session.

Ebenezer Roseberry of near Orleans was one of the early tavern keepers in Salt Rock Township. His place of business was about eight miles south of Upper Sandusky on the Radnor pike. Known to be an eccentric sort of person, it is recorded that at his direction and expense those who attended his wake consumed a barrel of whisky. This was known as the "Drunkard's Wake."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Interpretation at the Kremlin

Josef Stalin had summoned his top interpreter of world events. "I have complete report of a most amazing nationwide disturbance that has shaken the United States to the very roots," he said excitedly. "Hysteria is sweeping the country. I understand business is almost at a standstill. The loss in man hours is tremendous. There is a serious slowdown in transportation. There is fighting in the streets and homes. At last our agents in America are getting somewhere!"

PHILLIPS

"But, if I may say so," began his right-hand man.

"Don't interrupt me," snapped Joe. "I have papers reporting riotous demonstrations all over the U. S. A. . . . Open violence has reached sensational heights in the East. . . . We are finally making progress."

"The facts are," began the interpreter of events.

"Hush!" said Joe. "I listened by radio to such broadcastings of chaos, conflict and disorder as I have rarely heard in all my life. There was screaming and shouting. I distinctly heard cries of 'Kill the bum!' and 'Throw 'em out!'"

"But allow me to explain," the interpreter said.

"Silence," cried Stalin. "I have copies of the headlines in the American press. . . . 'Yanks in All-Out Battle.' . . . 'Crucial Fight Is On.' . . . 'Favorites Toppled' and 'Biggest Upset In Years.' Marx and Lenin go marching on, as I have always predicted."

"If I may say so, you are not getting the accurate picture, I fear," said the interpreter. "I feel it my duty to present certain data which will alter your impression."

"You try my patience," snapped Stalin, "but I will listen. Go on! In what respect am I wrong about this satisfying scene of disorder, chaos and strife in America?"

"It is not political, I am sorry to say," explained the right-hand man. "Unfortunately, the Cominform has nothing to do with it."

Stalin pressed the buzzer which flashed a signal to make room for a new prisoner in Siberia, and roared, "This can be treason. You mean to tell me the United States is not in a state of chaos, that bitter feeling does not run high in every hamlet, town, city and state, that America is not shaken to the heels?"

"But it is not shaken by us. It's something called a world series," said the interpreter of events.

"World series between the Wall Street warmongers and the peaceful forces of the U.S.S.R., of course," barked Stalin.

"Would that this were so," said the interpreter of events, "but the battle is between two small groups."

"How many divisions are involved?" demanded Stalin, obviously puzzled.

"Not a division. Merely eighteen men, nine to a side," was the answer.

"You are going pretty far," cried Stalin menacingly impatient. "How could a quarrel between two groups of nine men shake a nation?"

"They are athletes . . . members of rival teams in a silly game called baseball."

"I warn you not to stretch my patience," said Stalin.

"The whole disturbance is occasioned by a final series of encounters called a world series," said the interpreter of events sadly.

"Traitor! I personally heard by radio a great sea of voices from America crying 'Murder 'Em, Joe.' . . . This was a direct appeal to me," cried Stalin.

"It was another Joe, unfortunately, a certain Joe DiMaggiokokski," wept the interpreter.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Friday, Oct. 10, 1941

Russian front-line dispatches conceded that Adolf Hitler's invasion armies still were advancing "over mountains of German corpses" in the Bryansk sector of the nine-day-old battle for Moscow, and simultaneously the British radio reported a new threat developing almost due west of the U.S.S.R. capital.

Mrs. Myldred Bickham Binau and Miss Virginia Shumaker, cross-country horseback riders, were welcomed home to Upper Sandusky with a parade The celebration was to last for three days and be of the nature of a continuous wildwest show.

Still needing $7,051 to carry the annual campaign for funds for the Marion Community Foundation agencies "over the top," campaign workers decided to extend the drive until the following Tuesday afternoon.

Organization of a Civil Air Defense unit for Marion was continued at a meeting of the Marion Aviation Booster Club at the airport.

The first heavy frost fell when the mercury sank to 34, lowest for the fall.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Shambaugh of 321 South Grand avenue.

Marion Harding footballers faced terrific odds but matched courage and fighting spirit against a deficit in brawn to earn a scoreless deadlock with a favored Lima Central eleven before 3,500 fans at Harding stadium field.

More than 200 members of Trinity Baptist Church and friends of Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Wood attended a reception given by the church for the pastor and his wife, who planned to leave to make their home in Sandusky. Rev. Wood had accepted the pastorate of First Baptist Church in Sandusky.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Saturday, Oct. 10, 1931.

The Associated Press reported "The sinister cloud threatening the peace of the Orient as the result of the Japanese occupation of Manchuria thickened today despite moves by the United States and the League of Nations to dissipate it. China observed the 20th anniversary of the birth of its republic with an impressive military display at Nanking. Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese president, pleaded for national unity and strength to resist forcing invasion."

Eighty-five Boy Scouts from Marion were ushers at the Ohio State-Vanderbilt University football game at Columbus.

Ralph Shultz of Olney avenue returned from a visit with his brothers in North Dakota and Montana.

Miss Dorothy McIntire of north of Marion returned from a vacation visit in Petoskey, Mich.

The New York Yankees defeated the Giants in the fifth game of the World Series at the Polo Grounds, New York City, 3 to 1. Waite Hoyt, the Yankees' young pitching star, allowed only six hits. Peckinpaugh, Yankee shortstop, who later became manager of the Cleveland Indians, made one hit. Waite Hoyt is now a baseball radio broadcaster at Cincinnati.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

SOME DAY soon the military high command will call for a flight of jet fighters, a dash by an atomic submarine, or a wing of big bombers—and the craft just won't be available. Everybody will scream.

Well, those fighters won't be around because no one is screaming now over what might be a lethal lethargy in Washington over a growing revolt down in the war plants — a revolt among good American family men who're having difficulty keeping their kin in groceries.

Victor Riesel

There's a strike wave mounting.

It's already hit copper plants, steel mills, jet engine installations, heavy bomber assembly lines, super-secret atomic weapon labs up North and weird H-bomb constructions down South. It's quietly hit the utterly vital machine tool industry so hard that our aircraft makers are pouring prosperity over the German, French, Italian and Swiss tool manufacturers by dumping in heavy orders. This is at the suggestion of our Air Force because Europe is delivering months before our own plants can.

Why? Because our labor leaders are being pressured from below to slug it out on the picket line.

There's just where the revolt has been—on the picket line The rank-and-file workers fear they'll be frozen out of pay rises as they're paying exactly 12 9 percent more for their food, clothing and other necessities than they were on the quiet June 24th day before the world became aware of a parallel called 38

THE RANK-AND-FILE of even the most responsible and patriotic unions have the strike jitters. For three hours last Friday, for example, Phil Murray's C.I.O. electronic workers, all of them checked and rechecked for loyalty by the toughest government investigators, spilled out of the General Electric Schenectady Knolls Laboratory Two. That's the engineering and research laboratory working on the atomic submarine. The men walked out because crossed-up schedules had the company laying off some workers while others were doing overtime.

With prices as they are, few workers in that electronic capital can afford to take even a few days' layoff. The men were jittery. They quit. But as soon as GE promised to look into the schedules, the men trooped back.

There've been strikes at Douglas Aircraft out on the West coast and at the jet engine Wright Aeronautical plant over in Jersey. Other warplane workers are threatening to still the assembly lines in Oklahoma and elsewhere.

OF ALL THE fantastic labor battles, the virtually unpublicized deadlock up in Providence, R. I., is undoubtedly the strangest at this critical moment. Here's why. For months, the answer to my questioning of Charles Wilson's emergency production headquarters has been to the effect that while the phrase, machine tool, may sound dull, it is the most dramatic thing in the braintrusters' lives. We need machine tools to such an extent that Charles Wilson recently said:

"It is now evident that the supply of metalworking tools, which are basic to achieving our production goals, is inadequate. Military, Mutual Defense Assistance program, basic industrial expansion and defense supporting programs will be further delayed. The cost of the delay waiting for machine tools will far exceed the cost of the tools."

He undoubtedly meant in the blood and guts of our G.I.'s. So what happens. On Aug. 1, in Providence, R. I., the nation's biggest machine tool plant, Brown and Sharpe Mfg. Co. shut off its power after a bitter dispute with the International Association of Machinists, an A.F.L. union. For nine weeks, some 5,000 skilled men have been away from their benches. The union claims they are underpaid some 30 cents an hour.

THE COMPANY has offered increases, but not nearly this amount. The company says the union has no right to bargain on its pension plan or the work schedule.

Result, no machine tools. Where's the government? Nobody knows.

Yet these picket line jitters should not have come as a surprise to the White House. There was ample warning. There is a memorandum from one labor chief, director Jack Knight of the Labor Office of the National Production Administration, warning that there would be dangerous strikes That memo is dated the end of last July. Nobody paid any attention.

Instead, the Senate dumped a $60,000,000,000 defense fund into the military's lap—admitting that it really didn't know what was in the appropriation. And the military admitted it too didn't really know what it had. But is now dumping huge orders around the nation. Prices are zooming. Raw material is short. Layoffs are heavy.

And the big million-member steel union is unlimbering for a strike!

And there are literally 8,000 other such cases of the jitters!

Where's some government policy to handle all this?

CHURCH SPEAKER. Rev. Lowell Williamson of Amanda, O., above leaving this month for Japan, will be in Marion Friday night for a service at Second Pilgrim Holiness Church at Mark street and Ballentine avenue. Under the Oriental Missionary Society "Every Creature Crusade," his goal is to distribute Gospel portions to each home in Japan. Service at the church here will be at 7:45.

In the Service

Pfc. Richard K. Garvin spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Garvin of 311 Kensington place. He has been transferred to Chanute Field, Illinois, where he will study flight engineering. A 1948 graduate of Harding High School, Garvin enlisted in the Air Force in July, 1950.

Club Co-Ed Dance Planned Friday

A Club Co-Ed dance is being planned for Friday night in the club rooms at the YMCA. to follow the Harding High School-Lima South High football game Time of the dance will be 9:30 until 12, and Johnny Cheuvront's orchestra from Columbus will play. Fee for members is 20 cents, and for non-members, 40 cents.

Club Co-Ed membership drive is open this week, and membership application blanks are available at the "Y" from Mrs. Marvin Ludwig, club advisor, and will be available at the dance Friday night. Close of the drive will be Oct 19, when old memberships expire.

WESLEY CIRCLE MEETS

Circle No 5 of the Wesley Methodist Church met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Cloy Hartshorn of 791 Merkel avenue. Prayer was led by Mrs. B. J. Finley. The group made plans for a rummage sale to be held Oct. 17 in the Palace Theater building. A report was made on the sale of cook books. Mrs. Finley gave the study for the evening. Contests were won by Mrs. Harry Buckingham, Mrs. Homer Moehn, Mrs. Roy Strawser and Mrs Finley. Mrs. Dale Kimbel assisted Mrs. Hartshorn in serving refreshments.

Germ-Free Life

By Inez Robb

SOUTH BEND, IND.

DESPITE PENICILLIN, hygiene, DDT, strong soap and detergents, man is full of germs and subsequent, and assorted miseries and crotchets.

For all man knows, this vale of tears without germs might be a paradise.

Germ-free man, unmenaced by the common cold, is someplace in the distant future, but Notre Dame University has at least made a start in that direction. It is producing the world's first germ-free life in "autoclaves" in the laboratories of its bacteriology department

The project, originated and headed by Dr. James A. Reyniers, has so far produced several generations of germ - free rats, chickens and cockroaches, as well as a monkey or two. And already Dr. Reyniers has discovered that germ-free rats are full of (1) health and (2) beans.

Inez Robb

SO FAR, DR. Reyniers and his assistants have found germ-free rats resistant to cancer and to ulcers, the wound stripe of civilization and the curse of the drinking classes.

"At least, for experimental purposes we have been unable to infect them with cancer or ulcers," Dr. Reyniers said as he took me on a quick tour of Lobund, the germ-free experimental station.

Whether germ-free man would be equally resistant is something else again But it may be indicative of the utopia in which germ-free man might live that Dr. Reyniers has just barely succeeded in infecting one of his germ-free rats with a virus. Old John Q. Public topples over with this or that virus every hour on the hour, but not the germ-free rat!

Furthermore, Dr. Reyniers explained, the rat he succeeded in infecting with a virus was a doddering old specimen. The young and frisky fellers would have none of it.

Furthermore, among the young and frisky germ-free rats, sex has reared its ugly head, and if you will pardon a clique, how! In one of the bacteria-free "autoclaves," in which the doctor ordered me to peek through a glass window, was a happy family of rats which was a surprise even to Dr. Reyniers.

AT BEST, the doctor said, the ordinary or germ-laden young rat, reproduces his kind when he is 90 to 100 days old. But the matriarch of the family on display had lowered the record considerably by producing her first family at age 71 days.

"I haven't quite figured that out," the dignified doctor allowed.

I can understand why Dr. Reyniers so far has worked with the lesser forms of animal life in his experiments. The germ-free existence is terrifyingly bleak and sterile, and right out of Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World."

The animals spend their germ-free life in white steel cylinders about three feet long and about two feet in diameter. They are sealed into their germ-free world and human hand is never allowed to touch them except encased in the heavy, sterilized rubber gloves that are built into the cylinder or "autoclave."

THERE IS ONE large autoclave, big enough for a germ-free pony and a germy scientist (who would be on hand for observation purposes). Since Dr. Reyniers has found no way to make man temporarily germ-free, the scientist is sealed into a plastic diving suit, helmet and all, and must be immersed for 20 minutes in a tank of formaldehyde before he is allowed to enter the autoclave.

Inside the diving suit, the scientist is a mass of germs, but on the exterior he is pure as the driven snow and fit to associate with a germ-free rat, pony or cockroach.

Life in the autoclave is germ-free, all right, but no one would call it cozy, and I do not look for man to volunteer for this lonely experimental chore unless the international situation gets a lot worse, if that's possible.

Out of The Act

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

A BASEBALL umpire is like a symphony orchestra conductor. He directs the players, but he doesn't make the music.

Unlike the symphony conductor, the baseball umpire doesn't share in the applause.

He has a lot of problems. Nobody loves him except maybe his wife. And, like as not, when he returns from a hot hard day behind the plate, she says accusingly:

"Why did you call that third pitched ball to Ed Stanky in the fourth inning a strike? I was watching the game on television, and that was a ball if ever I saw one. Maybe you ought to get some glasses, honey."

Hal Boyle

Having earlier listened to Stanky suggest that he buy himself a seeing-eye dog, the umpire naturally finds this second wave of criticism rather wearing on his optic nerves.

It's a rough life. All day long he has to make unpopular decisions, and he never can let off steam by standing up to the plate himself and taking a swing at the ball.

It might improve baseball if the umpire were allowed to knock three home runs into the stands at the start of every other inning.

As the rules stand now, umpires can't get into the game This has turned them into frustrated actors.

I HAVE BEEN GOING to the current World Series games between the New York Yankees and the New York Giants. And the umpires fascinate me almost as much as do the players. They are psychiatrists without couches.

My favorites so far have been Lee Ballanfant and Al Barlick, both of the National League. Ballanfant is a visual artist. Barlick has both eye and voice appeal

Lee's particular forte is the gesture of the hand as he calls a strike. He does it as if he were playing yo-yo, or lifting Gypsy Rose Lee's skirt higher to pose her for a cheesecake photo.

Al is less classic, and caters to the broader taste of the masses. He is a protege of the late Bill Klem, the old master who always insisted "I don't call 'em as I see 'em—I call 'em as they are"

Barlick dismisses a ball with a disdainful "Baouw-w-w-w-l-!-!." But when he calls a strike it is in the nature of Hollywood production.

HE TURNS AN ABRUPT right face, throws out his right arm as if he were stabbing at a vanishing cafeteria bun, and hows, "Strooooooo-owwwwk!" In the face of this awesome suffering even the batter, who didn't swing at the ball, feels a bit better.

Al is known around the circuit as "The singing umpire" because of this dolorous cry, which the fans begin to pick up and echo about the fifth inning. He is the second to wear this title. Oldtime baseball writers say the original singing umpire was "Silk" O'Loughlin, who used to call the pitches in rhyme, such as:

"That is stri-i-i-ike two,
And soon you will be through."

Maybe the umpire of the future will be equipped with a guitar as well as a mask, and as one side is retired he can thrum into his microphone· "It was sad, yes, it was sad, when that last man struck out."

Perhaps a few hillbilly or calypso tunes are just what baseball needs to tune fans to the right mood. Anything to get the umpire more in the show.

What Is Halolight?
It is a border of soft, cool light that frames your television picture.

What Does Halolight Do?
It reduces the contrast between your brilliant TV screen and its darker surroundings.

Why Does Halolight Make Televiewing Pleasanter?
Because the frame of light offers a transition for the inner eye between a brilliant light and the contrast of darker room illumination.

Does Halolight Affect The Picture?
Yes, it actually makes the picture look clearer—makes it seem larger.

Is Halolight Just An Added Feature?
No. It is an important improvement—built into the Sylvania TV set—the most important advance in years in television viewing.

Why Is Sylvania FIRST with Halolight?
Because Sylvania research scientists have the benefit of 50 years of background in lighting and electronics.

HARLEY-DAVIDSON Motorcycles Now On Display!

"Going through the gears" is an easy, convenient operation with the new foot shift—hand clutch which permits four forward speeds without removing a hand from the handlebars on the 1952 model Harley-Davidson Big Twin Hydra-Glide motorcycles, according to Glen Dane Jr of Marion Cycle Store

The rider merely 'foots' through the gears, operating the clutch by a hand lever conveniently located on the left handlebar.

To the time-proved features of hydraulic valve lifters, hemispherical combustion chambers, and chrome plated compression piston rings has been added Parco-Lubrizing of exhaust valves on Big Twin motors. See 1952 models now on display.

Social Affairs

MRS. J. AZAROFF, Mrs S Babich and Mrs. M. Birnbaum were hostesses when the Marion Section, National Council of Jewish Women, opened the fall and winter season Monday at Ringer's Inn. Mrs. S. Levy of Marion and Mrs. H. Rome of Upper Sandusky were welcomed as new memers. Mrs. J. Vogel was named a delegate to the Mid-Eastern conference to be held at Dayton in November. A project of the council this year is sending school supplies to children in Israel. A rummage sale was planned for this month with Mrs. Azaroff as chairman.

A COVERED DISH dinner preceded a business and program meeting when the Marion Sorosis Club met for the first meeting of the 1951-52 club season Monday evening at the Women's Club Home. Mrs Homer D. Cole, president, was hostess for the meeting and was assisted by the social committee, Mrs. L. D. Clum and Mrs. M. D. Metz.

Cecil Gubler gave a talk on the need of the 4-mill school levy which will come before the voters in November, after which the measure was endorsed by the club. A sale of articles made by the blind of the state was conducted and plans made for a rummage sale Oct. 22.

For the program C N. Briggs gave a talk, "Armchair Traveling."

Mrs. John H. Morgan of 901 Cheney avenue was hostess for the first meeting of the 1951-52 season for members of the Fortnightly Study Club Thursday evening. Presiding was Mrs Rolland Augenstein, president, who also gave a report of the first meeting of the Federation Board. Plans were made for a rummage sale Oct. 25 in the Palace Theater building.

The program topic, "Our American Heritage," was presented by the program chairman, Mrs. Carl Miller. The topic, "A Contribution to Our American Heritage by Foreign Countries," presepared by Mrs. L. L. Foose, was presented by Mrs. Basil Morgan. A sale of articles made by the blind of the state was conducted.

During the social hour the hostess was assisted by members of the social committee. The table, covered with a lace cloth, was decorated in an autumn theme with gourds and other fall motifs. Presiding was Mrs. Augenstein. Mrs. Lawrence Davis was a guest.

Mrs D. T. Hamilton, newly elected president of the Ben Hur Club, was hostess at the first meeting of the season held Monday afternoon at the Women's Club Home. Mrs. E. L. Weimer conducted devotions and offered prayer.

The club voted to go on record as endorsing the four mill school levy.

Mrs. Weimer was elected secretary to fill the vacancy after the resignation of Mrs. Len Thompson.

The program, directed by Mrs. E. W. Koeppen, included a talk by Mrs. Hamilton and a paper "Colonial Williamsburg" by Mrs. F. M. Brabson. The constitution was read by Mrs. C. C Metz.

Tea was served with Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Metz serving at a table centered with cut flowers. Fall colors were carried out in the table appointments and refreshments. Mrs C. W Mayer and Mrs. Weimer assisted in serving.

Mrs. Robert Wanner, assisted by Mrs. William LeMasters, was hostess to Circle 17 of the Child Conservation League Monday night at her home on Merchant avenue. The group voted unanimously to support the proposed four mill school levy.

Mrs. Paul McMahon and Mrs. Kermit Smith reported on the State C.C.L. Convention in Dayton Oct. 4 and 5. Plans were made for a children's Halloween party Saturday, Oct 20. Mrs. John Paulus presented the program on the topic, "Child hood Diseases."

Mrs. Otis Somerlot of 272 Ballentine avenue entertained Sunday afternoon at her home for the pleasure of her daughter, Becky Sue, who celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary. Games provided entertainment and refreshments were served. Guests included Barbara Kull, Charlene Lehner, Carol Smith, Freddie and Georgie Sims, Phil and Ann Pittinger, Philip Applegate, Linda Smith and Shirley, Lynda and Barbara Barrett.

O. R. W. Club will meet Thursday at the home of Mrs. Howard Anderson of 787 Silver street.

Mrs. Anna Hart of East George street spent the weekend with her brother, N. V. Loyer of Wellston, O. Mr. Loyer's daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Richard Ernst of Galion were also guests.

Galyk-Plumley Vows Spoken In St. Mary Rectory

MISS VIRGINIA GALYK, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Michael Galyk of 485 Patterson street, became the bride of Duane Plumley Sept. 22 in the rectory of St. Mary Catholic Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by Very Rev Fr. William J. Spickerman, V.F. Mr. Plumley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll C. Plumley of 111 West Walnut street.

The couple were attended by Miss Verona Stephens as maid of honor and Walter Galyk as best man. Also present were the parents of the bride and bridegroom and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Plumley and Thomas and Michael Galyk.

The bride wore a gown of white lace with small buttons from the neck to the waist and long sleeves which extended in points over the hands. Her illusion veil was floorlength.

A reception for 50 guests was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents Miss Emma Knickle, Miss Velma Hook, and Mrs. Darrell Fleming were hostesses.

DAY LILIES

Hemerocallis, or Day lilies, can be increased by dividing the crowns of well established plants Hemerocallis means beautiful for a day and most gardeners only associate yellow with the name But there are many other colors—rich, velvety reds—deep wines and fiery red. With proper selection of varieties one may enjoy Hemerocallis the entire growing season.

Truman Nominates Postmistress At Green Camp

The name of Mrs Cora A. Williams of Green Camp has been included on a list of names sent to the Senate by President Truman for Ohio postmasterships, The Associated Press reported today.

Mrs Williams has been acting postmistress at Green Camp since Nov. 30, 1950. She filled the post when her husband, John Williams, resigned because of illness. She will be the 15th head of the Green Camp postoffice, which was established in 1854. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are the parents of a married daughter.

Two other area appointments were included on the list. They are Robert S Prater of Kenton and Waldon E Reed of Galena in Delaware County.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

I looked squarely into the eyes of my father, and gave him a truthful answer to his question.

"I am a bit ashamed to admit it," I told him, "but I am as thrilled by the prospect of this adventure—for that is what it is—as though I were a school girl.

"I never thought," I went on, "that I could ever fathom the minds of the bobby-sox swooners. But I am afraid if a masculine celebrity appeared at this dinner party, I should be as thrilled and as badly behaved as the adolescents."

He gave a faintly derisive laugh at that speech and cocked a knowing eye at me.

"If you really intend to stage anything like that," he said, "please let me know in advance. I want to be around."

Then he brought his face and his voice back to soberness again.

"You cannot tell how gratified I am to know you have a thrilled reaction to this adventure—for it is that," he said. "I am sure now that the experiment will be a success."

"Thank you, father," I told him gratefully. "I shall put my very best effort into it."

"I knew that before I came in here," he said. "And, now, shall we join the others?"

He rose and held out his arm to me. As I put my hand on it, I voiced a quick question.

"You have no further instructions for me?"

"Not now," he said. "If I think of anything, I shall be right in the city, and now that you have that private, unlisted telephone, I can talk with you in code at any time. I am depending on you to tell the rest about the instructions I have given you. I shall say nothing to them about it. I have but one instruction to give, and that I will voice as soon as I reach the other room."

I watched him with curiosity when he had put me into a chair in the other room, for he stood for a second, as if debating what to do. Then he went to the chairs where Hank and Bess Conway were giving a realistic imitation of a flirtation, and raised his voice so that Bill, with his fiancee, Mildred Grey, in chairs several feet away, could hear him.

"May I have the attention of you four star conspirators?" he asked.

They came to their feet at once, Mildred and Bill a bit confused, and walked toward him. He did not ask them to be seated again, but began to talk as soon as they had come up to him.

"I hate to interrupt such absorbing conversations," he said, smiling genially at them. "But I must tell you that for the rest of the evening, I wish you four would sit together, and develop a technique of conversation and banter calculated to impress people with the idea that the four of you are old friends, and are perfectly familiar with each other's little ways. Let me warn you that keen eyes will be noticing you, and your portrayal of intimacy must be flawless.

"Bess Conway knows all the ropes," he went on. "I appoint her captain of this troop. Please drill them mercilessly, my dear."

"I can swing a mean knout," Bess Conway said, with an infectious little laugh, "and I warn you that I shall swing it heavily if necessary."

FOOTBALL WORKOUT

STROMSBURG, Neb.—(UP)—Ross Speece received complaints from parents of his football hopefuls that he was working the boys too hard in preparation for the opening game. The next day the coach led the team in a game of "drop-the-handkerchiefs."

Young Oklahoman Is Star Farmer For 1951

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 10—(AP)—Harold DeWayne Hodgson is only 21 but he's already written an American success story on the bleak hill land of northwest Oklahoma.

In 1949 he married his high school sweetheart and borrowed enough money to buy a rundown farm.

Yesterday he was named the 1951 Star Farmer of America.

The honor is the top award of the Future Farmers of America organization. A check for $1,000 goes with it. The award is presented annually at the F.F.A. convention.

Hodgson bought his 320-acre farm for $8,500. Now it's valued at $14,400. His livestock investment totals about $10,000. Farm machinery, buildings, and other equipment runs about $7,200.

The Oklahoman has the land raising good crops of wheat and sorghums and providing pasture for purebred Herefords.

Started From Scratch

It was a lot different when Hodgson and his bride first moved on the farm. The barn was little more than an old wreck. The house had been used as a granary. Weeds almost hid it.

The young couple remodeled the house, built a barn and started a land improvement program.

The hard work brought results Hodgson is a modest redhaired youth who doesn't talk a lot about his farming ability.

Ask him about his own talents and he'll turn the conversation to his pretty 20-year-old wife, Lillian.

"I've got a wife who works as hard as I do," he told a reporter "She drives the tractor and the truck. She helps take the cottonseed cake and the grain sorghum out to the cattle. She can make and mend a fence as good as I can.

Runs Machinery

"She cuts weeds, and she can run the combine. She rides a horse about every day, out looking after the cattle."

The couple start their working day at 5 a.m. Sometimes — like during the wheat harvest — they are still working at 9 p.m.

They don't mind the long hours, though, as long as they can see their farm improving — sort of a pioneer spirit.

Where is their farm?

Republican Women Hear Dr. Smith

When the Marion County Republican Women met Tuesday at Hotel Marion, Dr. Frederick C. Smith, former congressman, spoke on conditions throughout the country.

Mrs. Margaret Harder presided in the absence of Mrs. Raymond Furniss, president.

Reports on the recent Republican convention in Columbus were made by Mrs. Anna Augenstein and Mrs. Bertha Stewart. Plans were made for a county-wide meeting to be held at a later date.

GALION HOSPITAL REPORT

GALION—City Hospital admissions: Mrs. Robert Corry, Mrs. James Friar, Michael Watson, all of Galion; Doris Jean Roesch of near Galion; Felicia Muntis of Crestline. Releases: Susan Seevers, Mrs. Charles Neal, June Gerhart, Mrs. James Music, Mrs. Robert Remmy, Mrs. Gerald Stoffer, Charles Will, all of Galion; Mrs. Paul Smith and baby of near Cardington.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Clonch of 521 Scranton avenue are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Naomi, to Harold Hammaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey of near Marion.

The double ring ceremony was performed Thursday evening, Sept. 27, in the parsonage of the Methodist Church at Green Camp by Rev. L. R. Kennard

The bride wore a street-length dress of aqua faille with black accessories and a corsage of pink rose buds.

The bridegroom is engaged in farming and the bride is employed at the Haas Sandwich Shop. They will reside on North Greenwood street.

FIVE-CENT FINES

HILLSBORO, Tex.—(UP)—A "dollar for a nickel" plan of paying overtime parking tickets has met with considerable success here. Motorists may pay their ticket with a nickel, instead of $1, provided they drop it into a parking meter at the city hall within an hour after the ticket is received.

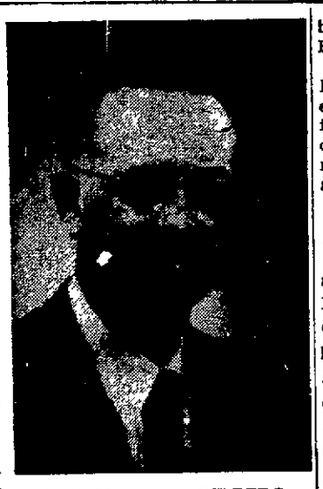
Missionary Conference Opens Tonight



REV. MILTON LINDBERG

Rev. Milton Lindberg of Chicago, Ill., will be one of 12 missionary workers appearing at the annual Missionary Conference of Emmanuel Baptist Church, opening tonight. He is from the Chicago Hebrew Mission.

Others on the worker list include Rev. Burt Rodamer, Panama, Central American Mission; Dr. and Mrs. John Dreisbach, and Rev. H. E. Newhouse, Africa, Sudan Interior Mission; Miss Ruth Verhulst, China, China Inland Mission; Miss Jean Harris, Cleveland Hebrew Mission; Rev. Elrow Larowe, India Mission; W. A. Hough of Marion, local Soul Harvester Mission; Miss Avis Kint, preparing for work in Africa; Miss Dorotha Goyer, home children's worker; and Dr. Ralph Stoll of Altoona, Pa., Bible teacher for the conference. All will be introduced at the service tonight.

Pictures of the work in Panama will be shown in the church's educational building by Rev. Rodamer at 7. Mr. Hough and Rev. Newhouse will speak in the church building afterward.

Mr. Hough will speak on the work in Cuba, and Rev. Newhouse, who has been a missionary to Nigeria, will speak of the work there.

The first evening speaker Thursday will be Miss Verhulst who has just returned from China.

Dr. Stoll will give a Bible message at 7:30 and at 8 Rev. Lindberg will speak on the Chicago Hebrew Mission.

The conference motto is "To the Regions Beyond." This is the eighth annual conference. Curios from the various countries will be on display each evening, and free missionary literature will be available.

Order Uniform Tax Evaluation On Real Estate

State Board Wants Same "Yardstick" Throughout Ohio

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10—(AP)—The State Board of Tax Appeals today served notice on Ohio's 88 county auditors it will insist on use of a uniform "yardstick' to value property throughout the state for the 1952 tax year.

Since the legislature passed the tax equalization law in 1949, the board has been trying to get county auditors to use the same yardstick to value property within their counties for tax purposes.

The same law provided that the board work toward establishing a uniform yardstick for valuing property in all the state's counties.

Basically, the law's objective is to prevent unequal distribution of state aid funds to local governments and to school districts, and unequal payment of taxes by persons having property worth the same amount.

Local government funds are distributed to municipalities in such a way that the higher property valuation in a municipality, the more state money will be available. School foundation program money goes to school districts in the opposite manner—the lower the property valuation, the more state aid is available.

Some Keep Valuations Low

The board feels that some rural counties, which can't qualify for much local government fund money anyway, have deliberately kept low tax valuations so they can receive more state aid for education.

The Board also points to another reason for equalizing tax valuations. The Ohio Soldiers' bonus bonds are being paid off with a state-wide tax levy on real estate. Thus counties with abnormally low valuations are not paying their share.

The board is using what is known as the sales ratio data method to determine the true value of property. Briefly, this consists of determining the relation or ratio of the assessed valuation of a piece of property to the actual price that property brought when sold during a three-year period.

Analyse Transactions

Field workers have been analysing real estate transactions in all counties for the tax years 1946, 1947 and 1948. By comparing the total of the actual sales prices with the total of the assessed valuations, it can be determined what percentage of their true value a county's property is assessed at.

Data for this study has been compiled to date for 83 counties and is being processed at the board's office here. It will not be used to change tax valuations for the 1951 tax year.

As soon as possible after Jan 20, 1952, the board will furnish each county auditor wth results of the sales ratio study in his county. Using the yardstick which the board must yet establish, the auditor will then be required to revalue all the property in the county accordingly.

THE FAMILY Service Society is not a new venture in Ohio, every town in and above Marion's population class, with the exception of Mansfield, is enjoying the benefits of the fine work an agency of this type can offer.

A total of $16,000, a generous portion of the 1952 Red Feather budget, has been allotted to the Family Service Society. Remember this new responsibility when making your contribution in the coming drive; and remember — it's a Bigger Red Feather for 1952.

"PEEPHOLE" MURDER SUSPECT BOOKED. Mossadegh's Health Delays Oil Showdown

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 10—(AP)—Britain kept trying today to get behind-the-scenes agreement for U.N. Security Council action in the Iranian oil dispute. But the ailments of Iran's aged premier, secluded in a New York hospital, appeared to have blocked any council debate this week.

A council meeting scheduled for tomorrow was postponed, U.N sources said, after the Iranians "indicated" they would appreciate the delay because of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's condition.

Strike Ties Up Borg-Warner

CHICAGO, Oct. 10—(AP)—The Wage Stabilization Board today studied the labor dispute involving the Borg-Warner Corp. as more C.I.O.-United Auto Workers threatened to join a strike which yesterday started at seven plants in four cities.

President Truman turned the dispute over to the board yesterday as some 4,500 workers quit work a day ahead of the scheduled walkout by 7,500 workers in 10 plants.

The strike already had halted production at plants in Chicago, Detroit, Memphis and Rockford, Ill. It threatened to spread to other plants in Cleveland, Detroit, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Newcastle, Ind.

Bowles Is Confirmed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—(AP)—Chester Bowles weathered a caustic Republican attack in the Senate last night to win confirmation as this country's ambassador to India.

The vote was 43 to 33 Five Republicans joined 38 Democrats to uphold President Truman's nomination of Bowles, former Democratic governor of Connecticut and wartime price administrator. A lone Democrat, McCarran of Nevada, opposed confirmation.

The Republicans who voted for Bowles: Aiken (Vt), Langer (N D), Lodge (Mass), Morse (Ore) and Margaret Chase Smith (Me).

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate G.O.P. policy committee, led the heated but futile attack on Bowles. The debate lasted about two hours.

GOOD DEED BACKFIRES

KENOSHA, Wis.—(UP)—Raymond W. Hamm, 20, spied police clocking a speeding auto, whizzed past them on his motorcycle and warned the pursued motorist. The patrolmen arrested Hamm, but not the driver of the other car whose speed they couldn't check accurately. Hamm paid $10.

Ohio Police Chiefs Oppose Exemption From Civil Service

DAYTON, O., Oct. 10—(AP)—The Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police yesterday adopted a resolution opposing a proposal to exempt police chiefs from Civil Service.

Copies of the resolution were sent to Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Gordon Renner, speaker of the House of Representatives, and to all mayorality candidates in the Cleveland area.

An association spokesman said a proposal to exempt police chiefs from Civil Service had originated in the Cleveland area and was believed scheduled for introduction to the next legislature.

The association elected the following officers at its 20th annual convention: Frank Harrison of Columbus, president; M. C. Kirkpatrick of Dayton, first vice president; Harry Smith of Ashland, second vice president, and H. S. Weaver of East Cleveland, secretary-treasurer.

Youngstown was chosen as the 1952 convention city.

know, Bob Taft fills that bill."

He labeled as "ridiculous" talk that Sen. Taft cannot be elected.

The Republican audience, which got a $5.65 filet mignon dinner for the $100, gave a one-minute standing ovation at the first mention of Taft's name.

Sen. Taft had planned to introduce Dirksen, but was called to Washington for a debate on the tax bill after speaking in Columbus last night.

Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) had planned to attend, but also was called back to Washington after the Columbus dinner. Party representatives here included Ray Bliss, state G.O.P. chairman; Rep. Charles H. Elston (R-Ohio); Charles R. Hook of Middletown, chairman of the party's state finance committee, and John B. Hollister, former Ohio congressman and now a law partner of Sen. Taft.

Dirksen flew back to Washington last night, but planned to fly to Columbus late today for a similar fund-raising dinner.

Brewster Urges Taft To Announce

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—(AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me) said today he feels Senator Taft (R-Ohio) should announce fairly soon that he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. He said he will urge the Ohioan to do so.

Taft arranged to meet today with David Ingalls and Ben Tate, friends who have been sounding out sentiment across the country. He has said his decision whether to announce formally for the nomination will hinge in large part on their findings.

But Jack Martin, Taft's administrative assistant, said the senator will not announce that decision just yet

Brewster, a Taft supporter, told a reporter that ordinarily it is not good strategy for a candidate to announce too soon, but he said he thinks the situation now calls for an early announcement by Taft.

A small silk scarf wrapped around the neck and tied cowboy-style is pretty—and practical. It protects the neckline from perspiration and make-up stains and is easily washed. Squeeze it through warm soapsuds quickly. Rinse well and blot in a towel. Drape one end over a hanger, and let the rest hang free. This prevents the fabric from "clinging" and colors from running together. When nearly dry, press with a warm iron.

there on charges of receiving $2,500, allegedly given with the intent of influencing his treatment of a delinquent taxpayer.

Finnegan yesterday entered indignant denials to testimony that there was anything "peculiar" or "coincidental" in payments he received from individuals or companies who at the same time took out insurance with firms in which he or his brother, Hugh Finnegan, had some connection.

In each instance, Finnegan asserted the payments—amounting to several thousand dollars—were for legal fees in wholly unrelated matters.

Finnegan Testimony

He told the committee:

(1) He tried to resign as collector as early as 1949 and as late as October, 1950, but was persuaded not to by no less authority than President Truman

(2) His own tax returns for 1947-48-49 were questioned by the Internal Revenue Bureau, and that he had been assessed an additional $2,444. It was not made clear if the amount has been paid.

(3) He considered two to four hours work a "tough day" as tax collector, and that his job consisted chiefly of "seeing people" and arranging jobs. He said he considered himself, as tax collector, an administrator, and was no tax expert

(4) He was assured by the late Robert E. Hannegan, then internal revenue commissioner and later Democratic national chairman that his job would not interfere with his outside law practice

(5) He grossed between $30,000 and $40,000 a year in 1947-49 as an attorney—in addition to his $10,000 collector's salary — although he never appeared as attorney of record in any case and kept no detailed books on his business.

(6) He had never actually sought appointment as U. S. commissioner of internal revenue although there may have been "casual conversation" about it.

A-Bomb Use In Korea Not Now at Issue

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Reporter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—(AP)—The use of atomic weapons in Korea was reported today to have been given serious consideration by U. S. military leaders but to have been laid aside for the present.

The question of using such weapons was one of the reasons for the recent hurried trip to Tokyo and the battlefront by Gen Omar Bradley, a well-informed government source told a reporter.

Bradley recommended against use of A-bombs at this time because he regarded the prospects of a Korean truce as brighter, said this source, who declined to be quoted by name.

Bradley, in addition to being chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is by law the principal military adviser of the President. Thus it may be presumed his recommendation was conveyed to President Truman who, by terms of the Atomic Energy Act, is the final authority for use of the bomb by the armed forces.

New Plumbing Shop Opened

Located at 178 North Main Street

A new plumbing and heating shop has been opened at 178 North Main street.

The business will be operated by Floyd and Walter S. Robinson, brothers who have been associated with their father, H. E. Robinson in the plumbing business.

The father and Walter S Robinson were in partnership in the former business. Floyd has bought out his father's interest and is to be Walter's partner in the new business. H. E. Robinson will not be active in the management of the new business but will work for his sons.

The new shop, Robinson Plumbing and Heating, will carry plumbing and heating supplies as well as offering installation and repair service

It was incorrectly reported in yesterday's Star that H. E. Robinson had moved his business to the new location.

Royal Couple Visit Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 10 — (AP) — Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh led the royal tour into Canada's capital city today and plunged immediately into a program of lavish entertainment by the dominion's dignitaries.

Highlight of the day's program —and most important "VIP" function of the entire Canadian tour —was tonight's state dinner at Government House with the governor general, Viscount Alexander of Tunis, and his lady presiding, and top officials and the diplomatic corps attending.

The schedule called for a 10 a.m. start as the royal train pulled into Union Station where the governor general was to meet the royal party. An appearance in a local park and a wreath-laying at a national war memorial were next on the program for the couple's two-day stay here.

Last night in Quebec the brunette heiress presumptive to the British throne and her blond husband were honored at a dinner by Quebec's Prime Minister Maurice L. Duplessis. Responding to his toast, the princess confessed to "a feeling of strangeness, the strangeness of the unknown" when she first glimpsed Canada on Monday.

Riot in Cairo Against British

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 10—(AP)—A wild crowd armed with stones and clubs, surged through the downtown streets of Cairo today, attacking western business houses in a frenzy of anti-foreign rioting.

The outbreak sprang from Prime Minister Mustapha El Nahas Pasha's denunciation of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty and his bid to chase all British troops off Egyptian soil.

The rest of the Arab world meanwhile joined Egypt in full support behind his plans to drive Britain out of its Suez Canal encampments and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

A British and a French firm and the trucks of Coca-Cola and Pepsi-Cola distributors were first targets for attack by shouting mobs.

They also stoned and attempted to storm the big immobilis buildings in the heart of Cairo. The two buildings, constructed around an open court, house a number of American and British business offices.

EDWARD ARNOLD AND NEW BRIDE. On their honeymoon now, screen star Edward Arnold, 61, and his bride, Mrs. Cleo McCain, 43, former head of the Detroit Welfare bureau, are shown obtaining a marriage license in Fairfield, Conn. They were married in Southport, Conn., home of his cousin, Fred W. Oshe. It was his third marriage, her second.

PRINCESS VISITS "FRENCH CAPITAL". Visiting Quebec, the unofficial French capital of Canada, and holding a bouquet of roses presented to her, British Princess Elizabeth stands on the steps of Laval University during playing of "God Save the King." Beside her is Monseigneur Maurice Roy, Archbishop of Quebec. Standing at the salute is Prince Philip, Elizabeth's husband, wearing the uniform of a lieutenant commander of the Royal Navy.

Drives Auto Into Street Sign To Miss Children

Charles Dawson, 26, of 219½ Sharp street told police he drove his car into a street sign at Mary and Silver streets yesterday at 1:30 p. m. to miss hitting several school children who ran in front of his car. His car was only slightly damaged, police reported.

A car driven by Emmett Smith Jr., 31, of 376 West Columbia street was damaged when it collided with a car whose driver did not report his name. The accident occurred at Vine and Church streets at 4.40 p. m. yesterday.

A city owned truck driven by Willard O. Darnell, 54, of 491 Toledo avenue and a car driven by Mrs. Mildred Viola Hall of 650 Uncapher avenue collided on Gurley avenue at 9:25 a. m. yesterday.

At 9:40 a. m. yesterday cars driven by Mrs. Clarice Specker of Toledo and Mrs. Ruth C. Casper of Helena, O., collided at South Main and Church streets. Minor damage resulted to both cars.

Cars driven by James R. Garver, 16, of 245 Leader street and Paul Fotworthy, 54, of East Jefferson, Ind., collided at Center and Main streets at 9:26 p. m. yesterday. Minor damage resulted.

Hall

was wearing a brown suit, grey hat, and carrying a brown topcoat. The four officers unloaded some luggage for Hall.

FBI men met the Mexican vehicle. Green said the agents "were all over the place prior and during the meeting," which occurred at the U. S. Immigration office.

Green said a blond haired man preceded the Mexican car across the bridge about 20 minutes: appeared to signal the waiting FBI men, then disappeared.

Same Man

The newsman quoted an immigration officer as saying it was the same man involved when Morton Sobell, 34, the radar expert, was deported to the U. S.

Sobell, a New Yorker, was convicted last spring with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg on charges of wartime espionage. They were accused of relaying American atom bomb secrets to Russia. Sobell is appealing a 30-year prison sentence and the Rosenbergs are appealing death sentences.

After Hall's return today, the Mexican interior department said his arrest had been made by immigration agents.

One unofficial report in Mexico City was that the Mexican government had put agents on the outskirts of the city to watch for Hall's arrival. This report said the Immigration Service men saw a man who appeared to be Hall in a car with two men and two women late Monday night. It said the agents followed them to a tourist court which was guarded while the agents swore out a warrant. Hall was then detained and started back to the border within a few hours of his capture.

The Automobile Manufacturers Association says that tests show that the average car is driven 12,260 miles its first year but that the figure decreases each year The average number of miles driven in 1950 by 1937 models was only 5,890.

Marion Soldier Arrives in U. S.

A Marion serviceman, Sgt. Glen E. Williams, and one from near Galion, Sgt. Robert L. Redick, were among a shipload of Army combat veterans who arrived in San Francisco, Calif., yesterday, returning to the States from Korea.

Sgt. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Wilhams of 224 Jefferson street, has been in the Army since March, 1948. While serving in Korea as a member of the 13th Signal Corps of the First Cavalry Division, he was wounded on Aug. 30, last year.

After enlisting, he received his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and then was sent to Japan. While stationed there, he completed an Army radio course. He went to Korea in July, last year.

Rotary Club Hears Talk On Plastics

Dow Chemical Co. Speaker Tells Growth of Product

Plastics was the subject of a talk by Harold A. Cook, public relations representative of the Dow Chemical Company of Midland, Mich., given at the Rotary Club meeting at Hotel Harding Tuesday noon

Mr. Cook gave the history of the company, recognized as one of the pioneers in the field of plastics. It was founded in 1888 when Herbert H. Down discovered a salt well During the early years of the company, its main products were epsom salts and bleaching powder.

The year 1928 was a milestone for the company because it had been in existence for 40 years. From that time on growth and progress were rapid. In that year iodine was added to the company's list of products.

Became President

In 1930 the founder died and his son Willard Dow became president. During the Second World War the company featured styrein magnesium and plastics. Dow now ranks fourth in size among chemical industries and is considered the world's largest chemical plant within one enclosure, Mr. Cook said.

He told his audience that when plastics were first introduced to the public, many people thought the product good only for pocket combs and rulers, but since then it has been used for making a wide variety of articles, such as dishes, glasses, fabrics, ash trays, etc.

Mr. Cook said that a few of the materials which go into making plastics are tar, coal, cotton, milk, brine and petroleum.

Guests at the meeting were Paul Pocock, Frank Barnhill, Richard Broomham, John Janssen and Kenneth Mitler.

Lennette Smith was the student reporter from the journalism class at Harding High School.

Mr. Wilson began his new duties Monday, coming here from the Good Housekeeping Shop in Mt. Vernon. He has made his home there for the past 10 years. He is married and has one eight-year old son. He plans to move his family to Marion as soon as suitable housing accommodations are available A veteran of World War II, Mr. Wilson spent 42 months with the Fourth Marine Division.

Ohioan, Son Held For Bootlegging TV

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 10—(AP)—A Belmont County man and his son were bound to the Federal Grand Jury under $1,000 bonds today on charges of illegally operating radio and television relay apparatus.

Walter McGuire, 62, and his son, Earl, 29, of Shardyside appeared before U. S. commissioner Bernard T McCann.

McCann said the two were relaying radio and television programs from a transmitting tower at Shadyside without permission of the originating stations.

Their purpose was to sell more TV sets by providing better reception in the hilly Shadyside area.

Nebraska is the only state which lies wholly within the Missouri River Basin.

TWIN BOYS FOR 14-YEAR-OLD MOTHER. Mrs. Barbara Pollaccia, 14-year-old Los Angeles, Calif., bride of two years, smiles at her twin boys born there Oct. 7. They weighed 7 pounds, 2 ounces, and 6 pounds, 4 ounces. The mother told authorities that she was 16 to obtain a marriage license when she was actually 12 years old. Her husband, Victor Pollaccia, is 30. Her mother, Mrs. Grace Barnett, is 35 years old.

Drugs Aid in Motion Sickness

In this modern age when travel by ship, train, plane and car is so common, cases of motion sickness have become frequent, and much attention has been given to the problem of relieving it.

Though due to a disturbance of the body's balancing apparatus located in the inner ear, the outstanding symptom is nausea. The episode begins with a feeling of fullness, later developing into sickness at the stomach.

Meanwhile, a host of other unpleasant manifestations show themselves—sever muscular weakness, dizziness, tremor, pallor, and sweating. Still later, vomiting may ensue with severe prostration if the cause of the motion sickness continues. The individual feels utterly wretched.

Many persons have a tendency to confuse altitude sickness with motion sickness, headaches seldom develop, and there are no noteworthy changes in the blood pressure, pulse rate or breathing.

Usually, the person with motion sickness is relieved temporarily of the majority of his symptoms by vomiting. All the difficulties usually subside without aftereffects as soon as the rolling, pitching, or other abnormal motion of the vehicle in which the person is riding is eliminated.

Those who are susceptible to motion sickness should consume only small amounts of food and liquid before going on a journey. Greasy foods should be avoided.

An untroubled mind, the absence of odors, and the avoidance of stale, stuffy air are helpful. The assumption of a reclining position while traveling, with adequate ventilation, and the use of cotton ear plugs to reduce noise, as well as a cushion to absorb vibrations, may also be of value.

Many drugs have been employed successfully. Many physicians use a combination of a barbiturate and hyoscine with good results. It is usually effective if given one-half hour before the trip is begun.

Recently, a newer drug, known as dramamine has been found very effective in treating and preventing motion sickness. Certain of the anti-histamine drugs may also be of benefit.

So, day by day, traveling is being made more comfortable.

Questions and Answers

R. W.: When I perspire underneath my arms I notice a pink-to-red color. What causes this?

Answer: Usually a colored perspiration is due to a fungus infection that may be present in the affected area. This can be confirmed by your doctor if he tests a specimen of perspiration under the microscope.

CHURCH SOCIETY MEETS

The Women's Missionary Society of Trinity Baptist Church met Thursday afternoon in the Trinity House with Mrs. Elmer Myers presiding. Announcement was made of a tea to be held in the church parlors Monday, Oct. 15. Devotions were given by Mrs. W. A. Baker. Mrs. H. J. Merchant presented a play centered on life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Mrs. D. W. Hinamon and Mrs. Ralph Epley took part in the play.

Crawford Bridge To Be Rebuilt

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—A ready-made type bridge will be installed this month on County Road 76, northwest of Crestline in Jefferson Township, Crawford County commissioners announced here today.

The bridge will replace a structure, which has been impassable since it was damaged when a heavily-loaded truck passed over it several weeks ago.

Commissioners said the project, which will be completed by the county highway department, will get underway as soon as possible since the road is an important access road to U. S. Route 30-N and State Highway Route 61.

Cost of the project is estimated at $7,600. Commissioners also have set Oct. 18 for viewing the proposed cleaning of the McKibben ditch in Cranberry and Auburn Townships. Hearing on the petition of the landowners will be held at the courthouse here on Oct. 19.

CREW BEGINS WORK

UPPER SANDUSKY — A crew of 131 workmen moved into Upper Sandusky Friday preparatory to laying new rail on the Pennsylvania Railroad between this city and Nevada. Their work will include the practical rebuilding of five miles of the east bound track. The new crew is occupying more than 30 camp cars located on Pennsy siding just west of Upper Sandusky.

GALION HOSPITAL BIRTHS

GALION—City Hospital births: a son, born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neal of Galion; a son, born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Staley of near Mt. Gilead.

The word "and" is used about 46,277 times in the Bible.

What's the fastest-growing line of trucks in America?

LOOK around you—in cities, on farms, at terminals and loading docks—wherever goods are moved on wheels.

More and more, the pay load's packed on a GMC.

You see those letters on medium and heavy Diesels, the most economical workers in their field. For GMC means first in Diesel power.

You see gasoline-powered GMC's front-running the highways of America—pace-setting delivery of the necessities of peace and war.

You see nimble bantamweights of the family—the highest-powered ½- to 2-tonners made—outpulling, outhauling every other truck in their class.

Ever wonder why GMC is gaining a greater percentage of the industry than any other truck-maker?

Ask the truck drivers themselves.

See the confident way they talk of the power plants, the broad-shouldered chassis—the way a GMC handles.

Ask about the tons they've hauled, the miles they've logged—the nip-and-tuck schedules they've licked time and again.

Ask these cost-wary haulers why they've made GMC the fastest-growing fleet in the land.

They'll tell you it's because GMC is the finest motor truck made.

If you'll come in, we'll show you why we think they're right.

Round Trip $450 in 1952

Pan American Plans Air Coach To Europe

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 10—(AP)—If you can raise $450 and have two or three weeks vacation coming next summer — a happy thought to hold to these October days—there's a chance you can make a flying trip to Europe.

Pan American World Airways says flatly that you can. Nine foreign lines and the other American, Trans World Airlines, says maybe you can fly aircoach style by then, and maybe not—and maybe not that cheaply.

Pan American says tourist-rate service will triple passenger traffic to Europe, because so many of you dream of a vacation there. The present first-class round-trip air fare, in effect since Oct. 1, is $711. The saving of $261 will make a lot of difference to a lot of you, Pan Am says.

But some of the other lines contend that trying to start tourist service by next summer could cripple rather than triple traffic, and the net result could be to pile a greater subsidy payment onto taxpayers, to make up any loss incurred by the attempt.

STEAMSHIP COMPANIES also are keenly interested. Last year 1,300,000 persons crossed the Atlantic, 16 percent going first class in ships, 31 percent first class in planes, and 53 percent cabin or upper-tourist class in ships. The steamship companies think aircoach service wouldn't hurt them next summer—the two-weeks' vacationer is not for them, anyway. They aren't so sure about keeping their tourist cabins filled in the years to come.

All agree that you'll fly tourist-style to Europe sometime. The question is: when and for how much? The International Air Transport Association, to which all 11 trans-Atlantic carriers belong, thinks the service should start a year from now, after the summer rush is over. The round-trip fare most of the airlines favor is about $500.

But Pan Am says no, it's starting aircoach flight April 1, at from $405 to $450, with or without I.A.T.A. blessing. If th service actually starts, T.W.A. says it'll meet the competition. British Overseas Airways corporation says if the service is started "within the I.A.T.A." B.O.A.C. will meet it. If Pan Am "breaks with I.A.T.A." and starts independently, then B.O.A.C. isn't saying what it'll do.

BUT AVIATION CIRCLES say T.W.A., B.O.A.C., Air France and the Dutch K.L.M. all are making plans to put aircoach type planes over the Atlantic when Pan Am does. This service would make more stops for refueling, feed passengers at these stops rather than on the plane, and put in more seats in each plane, thereby cutting out all the frills of present first class service. The luxury service, however, would continue as before, with airlines sharply divided as to whether it would be hurt by the cheaper flights.

Foreign lines oppose the early change because the Americans are better equipped to do it profitably. The Americans now fly 126 flights (both ways) over the ocean a week—Pan Am 68 and T.W.A. 58. The nine foreign lines fly only 116 amongst them.

Pan Am would use its new, fast DC-6B to carry 82 passengers. T.W.A. would use Constellations but doesn't know yet how many extra seats will be put in. Small foreign lines, which have no such equipment as does Pan AM, say deliveries of new planes have slowed down since the defense program started, and they probably couldn't afford such planes.

Judge Contests At Meeting Of Grange

Prizes Awarded Juvenile Members At Pomona Event

Finals in juvenile contests were judged and prizes awarded at a meeting of Marion County Pomona Grange Saturday night at the Whetstone Grange hall. Approximately 100 members and guests were present. Kenneth Pangborn, master, presided.

Those winning first prizes were: Donald Oberdier of Bowling Green Juvenile Grange, for making book ends; Charles Pittman and John Watkins of Bowling Green Juvenile Grange, for safety posters; Judy Bauer of United Juvenile Grange, for making pot holders, and Susie Cluff of Bowling Green Juvenile Grange, for dressing a doll.

Reports Given

During the meeting, reports were given by 12 subordinate Granges, and a contribution of $18 was given toward the Red Cross flood relief program. An announcement was made of the county Grange banquet to be held Nov. 15 at the First Evangelical and Reformed Church here.

A literary program was presented, in charge of the Pomona lecturer and arranged by the lecturers of the Martel and Bethlehem Granges, Mrs. Alma Downs and Mrs. Oscar Kaelber.

Present Program

Included were the following: notes from a scrap book, "Polly from Podunk Corners," by Robert Dunlap of Bethlehem Grange, a pageant, "The Spirit of the Grange," by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fogle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMahan, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gix, Mrs. Alfred Fogle, Mrs. Charles Ullmer and Jean and Jane Fogle, with Mrs. John Laucher Jr., Mrs. Robert Briggs and Mrs. Walter Rinehart as singers, accompanied by Oscar Kaelber, violinist, and Mrs. Robert Dunlap, pianist, and with Mrs. Oscar Kaelber as reader, all of Bethlehem Grange; a song, "Whispering Hope," by the entire Grange group; vocal and instrumental numbers by a trio composed of Penny and Tom Hayes and Sonny Worchester of Martel Grange; a skit, "Aunt Betsy at the Ration Board," by Mrs. J. K. Neff, Lillie Price and John Martin of Martel Grange; a vocal duet by Shirley Pangborn and Kenneth Mulvane, accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Pangborn of Martel Grange; and a cracker contest. The tableaus for the pageant were in charge of Miss Marie Bender.

At the next Pomona meeting Nov. 3 at Progressive Grange, annual election of officers will be held. Refreshments were served by a committee from the host Grange.

SIGNS DEPOSITION. Green-eyed Madam Sylvie Paul, 38, signs deposition in Setif police station, Tuesday, before being returned from the North African town to Paris. She confessed that she killed Madame Jeanne Perron 58-year-old hotel keeper, in a jealous quarrel and walled up her body in a basement police announced.

Two County Students At O.N.U. Honored

MISS RUTH SCHERTZER

CHARLES WRIGHT

Two Marion County students at Ohio Northern University will be included on this year's edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," the university reported today.

They are Miss Ruth Schertzer of the liberal arts college and Charles Wright of the engineering college. They were elected by the student body at an assembly program Oct. 4.

Miss Schertzer was also elected Ohio Northern's homecoming queen to reign at the O.N.U.-Olivet College football game.

A junior, she is a member of the Tau Kappa Kappa Sorority. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Schertzer of Green Camp.

She was one of four women students selected for inclusion in the student's Who's Who. She received the top number of votes to be cast for any O.N.U. student in the liberal arts college.

Mr. Wright was one of 10 men included in the Ohio Northern balloting for recognition in the college directory. He received the top number of votes cast in the engineering school.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Wright of 411 Pearl street, he is a senior and a member of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity.

Shaw Play Will Open Wesleyan Drama Season

DELAWARE, Oct. 10 — The Homecoming performance of "Candida," by George Bernard Shaw, will open the 1951-52 dramatic season for the Wesleyan Players at Ohio Wesleyan University, Oct. 20.

Other plays scheduled for production this year are "Deep Are the Roots," by D'Usseau and Gow; "The Yellow Jacket," by Hazelton and Benrimo; and Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night."

Performed in arena style, "Candida" will have a week's run Oct. 22 to 27 at the Quons-Hut Theatre. Tickets for the opening night performance will be reserved for alumni returning for Homecoming activities.

WYANDOT HOSPITAL REPORT

UPPER SANDUSKY — Mrs. Harry Diebert of this city, was admitted to the hospital Saturday for surgery. William Huff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Huff of near Sycamore, and Mrs. Arthur Wright and son of this city were discharged Saturday.

Mt. Olive Grange Holds Inspection

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP—County Deputy Elmer Williams was in charge of the annual inspection of Mt. Olive Grange at a meeting Thursday in the Township Hall. A grade of 86 was given.

Mrs. Frances McLean was named to arrange for a concession at the Halloween frolic Oct. 31 which is sponsored by the Community Club.

The lecturer's program consisted of group singing "Keep On Boosting"; reading, Mable Schaber; pantomime song "Does Jesus Care," Lois Rothfuss and Betty Allen, accompanied by Mary Thorpe; educational talk by Kenneth Hedges who showed movie slides of his trip through the western states; piano solo, Arlan Hedges; agricultural talk, Ralph Bailey; accordion numbers, Ola Uncapher; playlet, "Just Two Rocking Chairs," Olive Miller and Nina Ruth Hedges; song, "Now the Day Is Over," by the group.

Special to The Star

GALION—A program that featured the School Safety Patrol which is sponsored here by the Galion Automobile Club, was presented at the October meeting of the North School P.-T.A. Grace Thomas, secretary of the club, showed two safety films.

Members of the School Safety Patrol at the North building were introduced by Mrs. J. C. Shumaker, principal of the building. Wilbur Schnegelsberger, city patrolman, congratulated the members on being selected to the patrol.

The North School Cub Pack was presented with its charter by Eric Brooke who spoke briefly on Cub Scouting. The P.-T.A. went on record as endorsing the eight-mill school levy after M. E. Shank, superintendent of schools, spoke about the importance of passing the levy this fall.

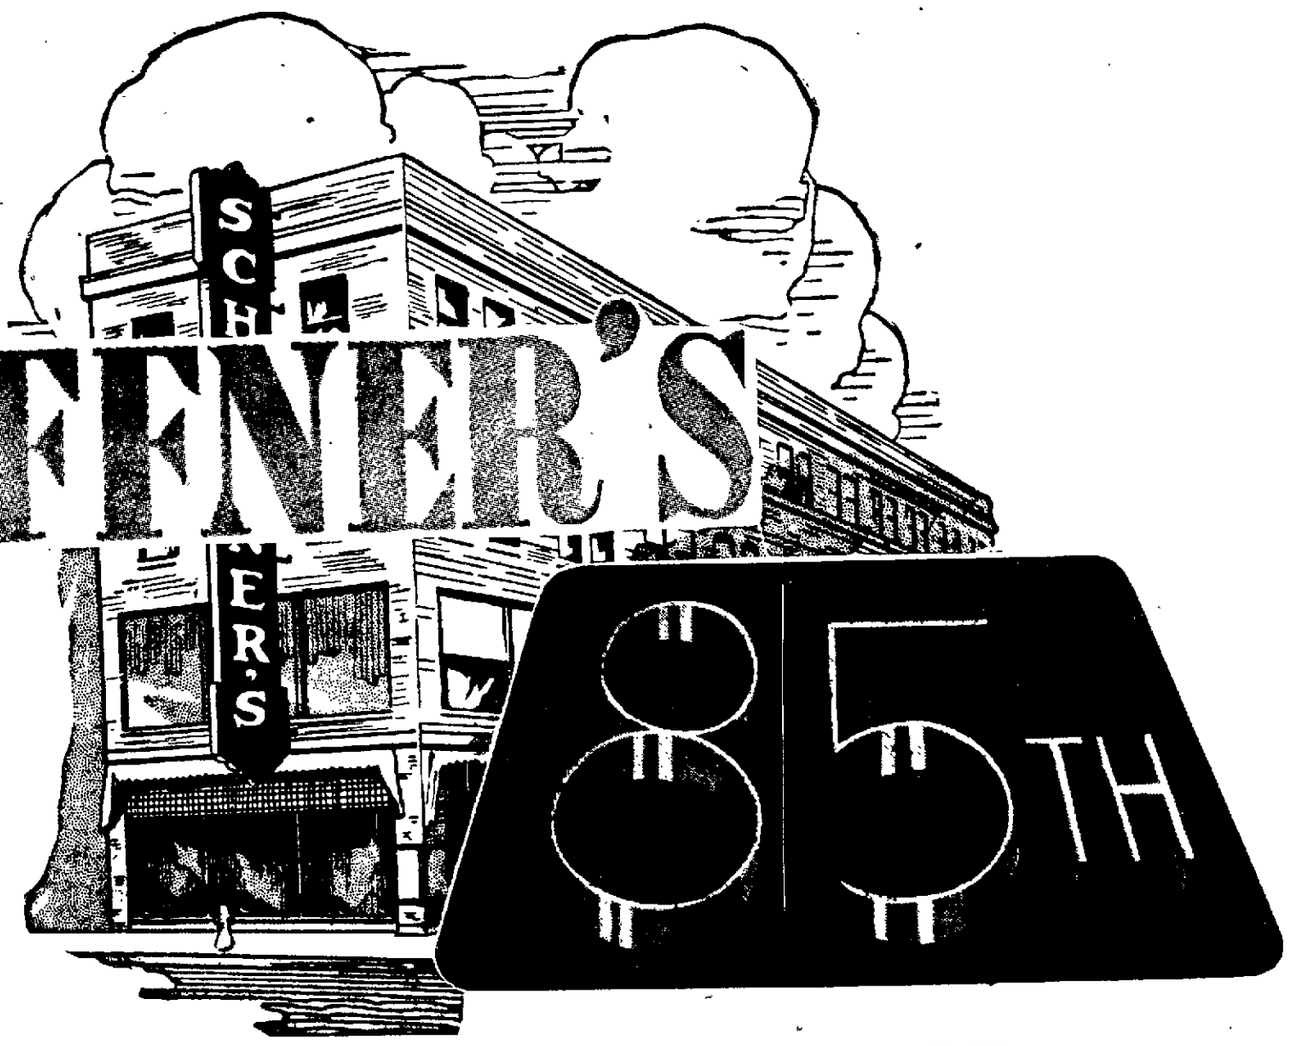
SCHAFFNER'S



ANNIVERSARY

BEGINNING tomorrow we start celebrating our 85th Anniversary. We are celebrating not just 85 years of existence but 85 years of SERVICE. A firm can't stay in business that long, and keep growing, if it doesn't give a square deal to those it serves.

During all these years we have tried to be understanding, efficient, honest and fair. That was the policy of Henry Schaffner when he founded the business in 1866, and through four generations of Schaffners, that policy has remained unchanged.

It must have been a good policy because today Schaffner's is not only the oldest retail establishment in Marion, but also the largest home furnishings store for miles around. A policy which works like that is good enough for us.

You folks in the Marion trading area are in for some very pleasant surprises during this celebration. You're going to see events and values of which you've never dreamed.

We've worked for months on this celebration. Some of the country's finest factories have enthusiastically cooperated to make exceptional values possible. Our own buying group, composed of over 400 of the nation's best independent stores, enabled us to buy at prices far lower than single stores could command. These savings will be for you.

We want to thank each and every one of you for your patronage, your good words and your good wishes. We are grateful for these things and for the privilege of living in America, and in Marion.

DEPENDABLE Furniture Since 1866

A LITTLE HISTORY

IN 1848 the French Revolution was in progress, the Washington Monument was begun, Zachary Taylor was elected president, and gold was discovered in California.

1848, also, marked the year when Henry Schaffner came to America from his native Switzerland. He came by the Erie Canal as far as Buffalo and thence west to Mansfield, Ohio, where he remained but a short time, moving on to Marion County in 1849.

Marion in those days was quite a different place than now; hardly more than a wide place on the road between the Ohio River area and Sandusky; it was the route by which products were taken to Lake Erie for transport. The Civil War was distant and Alaska still belonged to Russia.

Living too in that age had few of the comforts and conveniences we have become so used to today. There were no telephones, automobiles, radios, movies, cameras or lawn mowers; no combine harvesters, disc-cultivators, electric milkers, or cream separators. Things moved calmly so the fact that aspirin was unknown was not important.

On April 1st, 1850, young Henry Schaffner entered an apprenticeship as a cabinet-maker under Peter Dorn, a prosperous furniture dealer of Kenton, Ohio. Shortly, thereafter, he returned to Marion and entered the employe of Samuel Salter, then a manufacturer of and dealer in furniture.

This period of service included the summer of 1854 when a devastating epidemic of cholera raged. Coffin making became a part of the cabinet-maker's work, so he with others, was kept busy making coffins. Specifications for size were practical if not precise. A branch of a tree was cut to length by the family of the deceased and the coffin was built accordingly.

The village was all but abandoned during this period. Eighty residents fell victim of the scourge and all who could find refuge elsewhere left the village. Men came on horseback only for medicines and the direst necessities, and departed as fast as their horses could carry them. The epidemic lasted for approximately six weeks. A majority, if not all, of the victims were buried in the cemetery then on (the present day) Quarry Street. This period probably represented the greatest economic depression the county ever experienced; as in the furniture business at least, a total of six chairs accounted for the entire volume of business during this time of terror.

After Henry Schaffner returned from the Civil War in 1868 a partnership was entered into with William Fies and Albert Dreyer for the manufacture and sale of furniture. This partnership flourished for some years, though finally dissolved, and Mr. Schaffner entered business for himself. He built a small but complete steam factory for the production of furniture and in 1882 he added undertaking which today is still carried on under the name of The Schaffner-Denzer Company.

In 1891 due to advancing age he discontinued the manufacture of furniture and assisted by his son, Franklin Schaffner, expanded the furniture and undertaking business. At the death of Henry Schaffner in 1907 the family incorporated the business under the name of The H. Schaffner Company which name it still retains.

Franklin Schaffner continued as head of the business throughout his lifetime. He zealously maintained the high traditions of his father and at his death in 1938 the business fell to the management of his son, Wilfred Schaffner, who still remains active. Associated with him are members of the fourth generation, John Schaffner, Helen Louise Schaffner Platt and John Platt, a son-in-law.

As of today those of the family who share responsibilities, acknowledge with great respect the solid principles of honest dealings as laid down by the preceding generations.

They feel there is no successful substitute for the principle of the Golden Rule in business as well as elsewhere.

So long as they remain in management they are pledged to guard the import of the slogan . . . "dependable furniture since 1866."

Veterans and Draftees Guide —

—By—

Major Thomas M. Nial

WORLD WAR II vets are draft-exempt according to the law. But not long ago I came across the case of one who was inducted. He didn't enlist voluntarily or volunteer for induction or anything like that. He was ordered up involuntarily by his draft board.

Why? Did his board dislike him? Was it hard pressed to meet a monthly quota?

No. He gave the wrong dates of his World War II Army service when he filled out his Selective Service questionnaire, the long form you return to your board after you first register. From the dates given, his board believed he was not exempt as a veteran and so it ordered him up.

It took the vet-draftee several months to get a discharge. When he first applied his officers laughed at him. They wouldn't believe such a mistake was possible.

He wrote me, and I advised him what steps to take. His application for a discharge went up through channels to the Army adjutant general. The A. G. asked Selective Service headquarters for an opinion on the case. Selective Service checked back with the local board and then—believe it or not—told the Army that he was not "erroneously inducted."

WHY NOT? For two reasons, and all draft registrants should keep them in mind:

1. He had not given correct information to his local board. The dates of his prior service given were the only basis his board had to classify him. So it could not be held responsible for classifying him 1-A instead of 4-A.

2. He had not taken advantage of his rights of appeal. When he got his Notice of Classification stating he was 1-A, he should have filed a written appeal. The 10 days after that classification card is mailed is the "appeal period." He could have appealed right off, or asked for a personal appearance before the board and appealed after that if the board kept him in 1-A. In either case, he should have done it in writing and during the appeal period.

Maybe the Army could have kept this particular vet-draftee in uniform since he was not "erroneously inducted." It was the first case of its kind the Army had seen, but the question was never settled. The Army discharged him anyway "for the convenience of the government."

TAKE A SIMILAR case —this one imaginary. Joe B. has a wife and two kids, is classified 1-A, inducted and then tries to get discharged, claiming he should have been deferred. The Army would let him out if Joe's draft board really had made a mistake and Selective Service found he was "erroneously inducted." For example, he might have filed a written appeal but his board forgot to send his records off to the state appeal board.

But if Joe let his appeal period slip by without taking any action, never filing an appeal, never speaking to his draft board or government appeal agent, or as a last resort writing to his state director —then Selective Service would rule that he was not "erroneously inducted," even though he might have been in line for a 3-A dependency deferment.

The lesson in all this is clear. Make sure your board has correct and up-to-date information about you. Be careful in filling out your original draft questionnaire. Get help from the clerk or government appeal agent of your board. And after that, notify your board in writing of any changes of address or status.

Finally, make sure you take advantage of all your rights of appeal. If you think you're wrongly classified, speak to your government appeal agent immediately about what you should do. Get his name and address from your board

Give Reports on K. of P. Grand Convention

Reports on the grand lodge convention held at Columbus recently were given by Carroll W. Davidson, delegate and Ed Abel, alternate, at a meeting of Marion Lodge No 51, Knights of Pythias, Friday night. The 1952 meeting will be held in Cincinnati. Attending the meeting also was M. L. Wilson.

The page and esquire ranks were conferred on a class of candidates at a called meeting Saturday night. The work was in charge of a degree staff from Cardington and Mt. Gilead. Attending was District Deputy Hoffman of Crestline. Announcement was made of a turkey dinner to be held by the Bucyrus lodge Oct. 16, open to knights and their families. A lunch and smoker followed the meeting.

ENTERTAINS CIRCLE

Mrs. Leland Case entertained circle No. 9 of the First Presbyterian Church Thursday at her home on South Grand avenue with Mrs. James Ressler assisting. Mrs. Howard Cary reported a rummage sale to be held in the Palace Theater building Saturday, Oct. 13. Mrs. Robert Rank presented a discussion on church women and race relations. Guests included Mrs. Roger Wilson, Mrs. Lewis Forsythe and Mrs. Jean Koffman.

Plan Housing Development

General Contracting To Build Homes

A 17-home housing development is planned on the east edge of Marion by the General Contracting Co. of Marion.

D. L. Trachsel, president of the firm, said the development would be constructed on the east side of the Kensington place extension between Indiana avenue and State Route 95. Known as the Eckley Addition, the homes will be constructed on a new street to be called Eckley drive. The circular drive will be placed 550 feet south of Indiana avenue and will be approximately 400 feet long.

One home is under construction at the present time and will be open for public inspection Oct. 13, Mr. Trachsel said. The homes will be equipped with city water and gas. All buildings will be ranch-type houses with two or three bedrooms. They will be built as ordered, he said.

GROUP NAMES OFFICERS

MT. GILEAD — Members of the Morrow County Agricultural Society re-elected the 1951 Officers to serve for 1952 it was announced today by Glenn Brown, secretary. Those named were: Earl Hershner, president; Walter Hardesty, vice president; Virgil Crist, treasurer. The group has tentatively selected August of 1952 for the 102nd annual fair date. Resignation of Claude Shelton of Iberia, was accepted but no action was taken to name a successor. Mr. Shelton was co-superintendent of speed.

NAMED SUPERINTENDENT

GALION—Ralph L. Cornell of Galion has been assigned to the position of superintendent of mails at the Galion post office. This position was recently established, it was announced by Postmaster J. Ben Romine. For the past 11 years Cornell has been employed at the post office as clerk.

Include 8 Tax Levies, 2 Bond Proposals

13 Special Issues To Appear on Ballots

A total of 13 special issues will appear on ballots in Marion County at the Nov. 6 general election.

These include eight tax levies, two bond issues, two local option votes, and a statewide vote on a proposed amendment to the Ohio constitution.

Marion city voters will cast ballots on three tax levies and a bond issue, in addition to the amendment proposal, which would affect the organization of probate courts.

The bond issue, for $600,000, would finance expansion and improvement of the city's sewage disposal plant. A 55 percent majority vote will be needed for approval, the board of elections, reported.

Maintenance Tax

Accompanying the bond issue will be a three-fourths-mill levy for sewage plant maintenance costs. This proposal needs a 60 percent majority.

Both measures were sponsored by city council, along with a third tax levy for recreation purposes. The latter levy will be one-half mill. It also needs a 60 percent favorable vote.

The Marion board of education is asking approval of an additional four-mill levy for school operating expenses. It needs a simple majority for passage.

A $295,000 school bond issue will be placed before the voters in Green Camp School District. The Green Camp board of education passed a resolution Sept. 4 approving the issue. Should the question be approved by a 55 percent majority the money would be used for construction of a new elementary school building with a gymnasium and auditorium and for furnishing playground equipment and buying needed real estate.

Morral School Proposal

Morral School district voters will vote on renewal of a three-mill levy and a one-mill increase for operating expenses of the school district. This issue as well as all other school levies in the county will require only a simple majority.

Other school operating levies and the amounts asked are as follows: New Bloomington, five-mill renewal and four-mill additional levy; LaRue, two-mill additional levy; Caledonia, five-mill renewal; and Grand Prairie, four-mill additional levy.

Local Options

Grand Prairie Township voters will ballot on two local option issues. Petitions asking the wet-dry votes were filed at the board of elections just prior to the deadline on July 31. Two separate votes will be taken, one on the question of allowing the sale of liquor and the other on the sale of beer within the confines of the township. Both need a simple majority to carry.

The proposed amendment to the state constitution would, if approved, give the legislature the authority to establish an additional probate judge for county probate courts where the docket usually is crowded. The amendment has been aimed to help probate court administration in metropolitan areas, mainly Cuyahoga County and probably would have no affect on Marion County.

Meat-Stretching Casserole Is Joy To Budget

ONE WAY to keep a man happy, according to a popular saying, is to put meat before him at every meal. There's a villain in the piece, however—unless you do some thrifty planning, this meat-eating man can put a hole in the household budget. Designed to please both man and purse is this meat-stretching casserole which puts lima beans in a new kind of role. It's a dish that can be bet on to give top performance at mealtime.

LEMA BEAN AND FRANKFURTER CASSEROLE

2 T butter or margarine
1 medium onion, chopped
1 garlic clove, halved
3 T flour
1 T curry powder
4 instant chicken bouillon cubes
2 cups water
Dash tabasco
½ t Worcestershire sauce
½ t paprika
1 t monosodium glutamate
4 cups cooked lima beans
1 lb. frankfurters

Melt butter or margarine; add onion and garlic; cook until onion is soft but not brown. Remove garlic. Blend in flour and curry. Crumble bouillon cubes; add with water, tabasco, Worcestershire sauce, paprika and monosodium glutamate. Stir over low heat until thickened. Add lima beans. Slice frankfurters. In a 1½-quart casserole arrange alternate layers of lima bean mixture and sliced frankfurters, ending with lima beans and a ring of frankfurter slices. Bake in moderate oven, 350 F., about 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

The Latter-day Saints Church temple in Salt Lake City took 40 years to build and is estimated to have cost $3,500,000.

ST. MARY P.-T.A. MEETS

The first meeting of St. Mary P.-T.A. was held Sunday afternoon in Moira Hall. Sister Francis Regina, principal of the parochial school, was the speaker. Her topic was "Our Faith in Our Child's School." Dan Gibb, president, presided. The meeting opened with prayer by Rev. Father Thomas Lowery, assistant pastor, who also spoke the benediction.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Alice Price of near Marion and Esther Beringer of near Waldo are attending the conference of rural youth at Jackson's Mill, Weston, W. Va., it is reported by Robert Wise, president of Rural Youth of U. S. A. Conference, from Newark. About 250 delegates from 17 states and five foreign countries are convening to study and discuss problems of rural communities. The conference theme is "My Job in the Rural Community."

ALLOWANCES DISCUSSED

A round table discussion on allowances for children was conducted by Mrs. Harry Hammond and Mrs. Woodrow Frost at a meeting of the Parents Forum Thursday night at the Central Christian Church. Devotions were led by Mrs. Eugene Miller and Mrs. Don Creviston was elected new librarian. Hostesses were Mrs. James Ward and Mrs. Frost.

IN THE SERVICE

Cpl. and Mrs. Donald L. Nash and their six-months-old son, Donald Jr., are visiting Cpl. Nash's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nash of 569 Wilson avenue. Mrs. Nash, the former Barbara Field, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Field of 774 Cheney avenue. They had been living in Mississippi where Cpl. Nash was stationed as a supply clerk at Keesler Field. He will report to Camp Stoneman, Calif., Oct. 14 for assignment to Alaska. His wife and son will live with her parents. He attended Harding High School and worked at the Gaster Coal Co. before entering the service Sept. 25, 1950.

BEES DISCOURAGED

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex.—(UP)—A newly-enacted law passed by the city council here carries a sting to it. It provides a fine up to $200 for beekkeeping or beehives in the city limits.

Drivers Arrested By Patrol Fined $15

Two Mansfield men were arrested by state highway patrolmen yesterday at 6:30 p.m. on Route 42. Each of them was fined $15 and costs by Alvin Spriggs, justice of the peace in Mt. Gilead. Both entered pleas of guilty.

Ralph Chamberlain, 39, was arrested on a charge of traveling to the left of center and John Carew, 37, was charged with excessive speed.

Lawrence Joseph Garazaglia, 30, of Detroit, Mich., forfeited bond of $15 when he failed to appear in Marion Municipal Court this morning. He was arrested at 3:45 p.m. yesterday on a charge of crossing over the yellow line on Route 23.

Deming Jarves, pioneer glassmaker, first began making pressed glassware in the famous old Boston and Sandwich Glass Company factory at Sandwich, Mass. Historians say this step made it possible for the first time for people of all classes to have glassware in their homes.

District G.O.P. Wants Milligan To Seek Office

FINDLAY, Oct. 10—Fred J. Milligan has been urged to announce his candidacy for lieutenant governor by Republican organization leaders of the 8th Congressional District, it was announced today by Robert L. Evans of Findlay, district chairman.

Evans said party leaders from each of the seven counties comprising the 8th District had, at a meeting at Upper Sandusky last week, unanimously adopted a resolution urging Milligan to run for lieutenant governor next year and assuring him of their full support.

Counties in the 8th District are Crawford, Hancock, Hardin, Marion, Morrow, Seneca and Wyandot.

Milligan, former state director of commerce, is a native son of the 8th District, having lived for many years at Upper Sandusky. He is now practicing law in Columbus.

Korea

Chinese in the valley land on the peaks to the west and shot up North Koreans' positions on the east.

Chinese troops were spotted fleeing from one mountain top. Two Chinese concentrations were routed from the valley.

Censorship shrouded the exact location of the valley.

The tanks rumbled out in the early morning fog with little resistance. As the attack progressed Chinese opened up with mortar fire which bounced off the tough hide of the tanks and then blasted at the force with artillery. A tank officer said the shells screamed over the attacking force and did not hit the armored column.

The green Chinese, newly drafted into the Red force, began moving into the ridge lines three days ago. They were ill prepared to meet the armored power.

Part of the task force probed into a canyon and rocked another Red concentration.

A briefing officer said the well-timed thrust caught the Chinese before they had time to organize.

The attack was carefully prepared. Navy planes bombarded a town Tuesday in preparation for the attack. And engineers had prepared the river bed trail.

One report said the foray was "duck soup."

2nd Infantry Hit

It was a different story for Second Division troops on nearby ridges.

A U. S. 8th Army communique Wednesday said the Reds hurled a heavy counterattack by an estimated battalion at Second Division troops north of Yanggu. The Americans made a fighting withdrawal.

Elsewhere in the Heartbreak Ridge sector other forces of the Second Division carved out gains of 200 to 600 yards in morning attacks.

On the western front a battalion of Chinese counterattacked the First Cavalry Division northwest of Yonchon at 1:10 a.m. The cavalrymen beat off the Reds in a three-hour battle.

Other U.N. units northwest of Yonchon drove forward for "limited gains" in the morning. The Allies reported counting bodies of 200 Chinese on one hill.

The rest of the front, the communique said, was relatively quiet.

Stassen Wrong About Jessup, Austin Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—(AP)—United Nations records placing Ambassador Philip C. Jessup in New York Feb. 5, 1949—instead of at a White House conference as Harold E. Stassen has contended—stirred fresh controversy in Congress today.

The dispute over President Truman's nomination of Jessup as a U.N. delegate was sparked anew by a message to the State Department that Jessup was some 225 miles from Washington at the precise hour of the conference here.

The message came from Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate to the U.N., and the department made it public last night. Stassen, in Philadelphia, could not be reached for comment.

Jessup's whereabouts the day of the 1949 White House meeting have become a point of sharp conflict at a Senate foreign relations subcommittee's hearings on his nomination.

Stassen, former Republican governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, has testified under oath he was told by the late Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, that Jessup attended the meeting. Jessup has sworn he did not.

Stassen said Vandenberg told him Jessup and Secretary of State Acheson proposed at the conference that U. S. military aid to Nationalist China be halted.

Yankees Send Raschi To Mound In Bid To End Series

through the SPORTSCOPE with A.L. McCLAIN

LOST VICTORY. Harding's dressing room following their 27-27 tie to a good Fostoria team last Friday night looked like that of a losing team. The fellows were plainly discouraged and tired.

Chris Brady, who had set up one TD on a long run and kicked three out of four extra points, sat disconsolately in front of his locker. Tom McClain with two TDs to his credit said, "We should have won that one."

Coach Pete Howison said, "We're just going to have to work even harder before the Lima South game."

McClain nodded, "We need it after tonight."

ADDED CONFIDENCE. That little lockerroom episode reflects the newly-found confidence the Prexies have this season in comparison to the lackadaisical outfit of last year.

Close followers of the team will tell you this squad isn't as strong as the one in '50, but will go on to tell you they have a much greater desire to win. And they believe in themselves.

Twice this year the Prexies have given up a quick TD on the opening series of play via a long pass only to come roaring back undismayed.

LONG, LONG ROAD. Howison and his youngsters have some rugged nights ahead with such powerhouses as Fremont Ross and Sandusky, among the top 10, coming up.

But it will take more than reputation to beat the locals.

Coaches will tell you over-confidence may often beat a team while a team with no confidence is beaten before it steps on the field.

Here's hoping the Prexies keep thinking they're the best in the Buckeye League. We're not going to tell them any different.

NO DESPAIR FOR IRISH. St. Mary followers may think their Irish footballers were disappointed after losing by the big score of 33-14, Coach Ray Robbins says they aren't.

Ray had nothing but praise for his lads as well as Tiffin Calvert Saturday morning. "Tiffin has a great team, really great!" he complimented.

Followers who traveled to Tiffin to see the contest came away talking about Dave Carr's 85-yard run.

We'll add one ourselves by saying Carr is one of the speediest backs we have seen in a high school uniform. The youngster really scoots!

HOLLYWOOD WINNER. Henry Mack, owned by Dr. C. G. Smith of Marion finished first in the opening day of harness racing in Hollywood the other day.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith were out there to see Driver Dick Williams guide the winner home.

CLINIC SPECIAL. Members of the Pennant-winning Marion Red Sox to take part in a clinic in Boston recently were: Ed Sadowski, Dick Brodowski, Jim Evanik, Phil Renzi, Marv Stendel, Ed Lavene, Bill Zonner, and Bruce Weaver. Stendel slapped a long homer.

Baseball Airing To Continue After Series

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—(AP)—Baseball will hop from the World Series back into a congressional investigation.

Ernest Goldstein, counsel for a House judiciary subcommittee, told a reporter today the investigation, which was begun last July, will resume Monday.

Chief among those to be heard: The players. They didn't have their say in the summer hearing because the subcomittee didn't want to interfere with their playing.

The investigation has run along these lines:

1. Is baseball violating anti-trust laws?

2. If so, should Congress exempt it from prosecution?

Mostly the committee heard from the baseball management. One of the chief witnesses, for example, was Ford Frick, then head of the National League, but since named baseball commissioner.

To the surprise of practically no one, all these witnesses came out strongly for leaving baseball exactly as it is.

Middlecoff Wins Kansas Open

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 10—(AP)—Cary Middlecoff nabbed the Kansas City Open title to wind up the P.G.A.'s summer golf tournament tour as the nation's No. 2 money winner.

The tall Tennesee dentist with a 68, was four strokes under par in beating Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., and Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y., by four strokes in an 18-hole playoff in the $15,000 open yesterday.

The victory, Middlecoff's sixth major success of the year, was good for $2,400 and boosted his year's earnings to $24,075.91, second only to Lloyd Mangrum who has made $26,088.83.

HALLOWEEN PARTY PLANNED

MARYSVILLE—The Marysville Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Halloween party in the downtown district this year. Plans include a street dance and 17 cash prizes for costumes. Last year more than 200 competed for costume prizes and the party drew thousands from throughout Union County.

Giants Pick Koslo To Square Count

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 10—(AP)—Flexing their muscles after the 13-1 slaughter at the Polo Grounds, the aroused New York Yankees closed in for the kill today with Vic Raschi (21-10) primed to face Dave Koslo (10-9) of the Giants in the sixth World Series game at Yankee Stadium.

Once more Leo Durocher's desperate Giants had their backs to the wall, a most familiar position. Trailing 3-2 in games, they couldn't afford to lose any more and the Yanks were 9 to 5 favorites to close it out in six.

Against Brooklyn in the playoff, the Giants bounced back in the dramatic finale. But they seem to have lost their bounce since Sunday's rainy interruption.

Durocher chose Koslo, a 31-year-old lefthander, for his do-or-die effort. He gambled and won with Dave against Allie Reynolds in the opening game at the Stadium. Passing up Jim Hearn, the third game winner, he pinned his hopes on cool Koslo to keep them popping up in the spacious Yankee home park.

Up to Koslo

If Koslo can do it again, the Giants will have a fighting chance for survival. If he fails they can pack up and go back home to dream of Bobby Thomson's payoff homer in the playoffs.

Much of the sheen of Thomson's famous homer was rubbed off yesterday in the Giants' final Polo Grounds appearance. Groggy and numbed after a 12-hit Yankee bombing that included a grand slam homer by Rookie Gil McDougald and a "Chinese" homer by Little Phil Rizzuto, they surrendered meekly.

Larry Jansen, twice a loser in the series, had shoddy backing. Still he hurt himself with four walks and that home run ball to McDougald, the 22-year-old kid from San Francisco.

By the time the Yanks finished touching up Montia Kennedy, George Spencer and Al Corwin, Durocher had to call on a gent named Alex Konikowski, late of Ottawa, to finish. It didn't matter much then to the 47,530 fans, most of whom had departed long ago.

Why are the Yanks leading? It's as simple as the batting averages. Of 35 Giants hits, 20 are concentrated in Monte Irvin (.550) and Al Dark (.429). The others are sad news.

Brown Usual Self

Bobby Brown (.357) is showing his usual October form. Rizzuto (.333) has the most hits of any Yankees, seven. Young McDougald (.316) is hitting in the clutches. And Joe DiMaggio (.238) is making a fine recovery from a 12 to 0 start.

The Yanks have scored 25 runs, the Giants 15. The Yanks have a .247 team average, the Giants .220. The Yanks have five home runs, the Giants two. Add two fine pitching jobs by Lefty Ed Lopat and a fine comeback by Allie Reynolds and you have enough reasons.

Lopat was plenty cute yesterday, sprinkling five hits. Only one Giant reached second base against the chunky little fellow with the easy motion after the first inning. Irvin ran his hit total to 11, one short of the record, and was robbed of the 12th by Gene Woodling's fine running catch in the ninth. Dark's two hits boosted his total to nine. Wes Westrum's double was the only other hit.

All the Yanks celebrated except Lopat. DiMaggio had three hits, Rizzuto and Brown two each and all the others had one.

Now, with a third straight series victory within his grasp, Manager Casey Stengel decided to send Raschi after the big one. Vic, a husky righthander, was knocked out in the fifth inning Saturday when Jim Hearn stopped the Yanks. With three days rest, he's anxious to get even with the Giants.

The Yanks, 13-4 in 17 previous series, haven't lost since the St. Louis Cards upset them in 1942. The Cards beat them in '26 and the Giants in '21 and '22. All the rest have meant Yankee victory dinners.

Judging from yesterday's final score, you never would think the Giants once led. But they did, 1-0 at the end of the first on singles by Dark and Irvin and an error by Woodling.

Unloaded

DiMaggio's single following two walks tied the score early in the third. After an intentional walk to Johnny Mize loaded the bases, McDougald unloaded them with a homer into the upper left field seats.

Young Gil sent the boys scurrying for the record books to dig up the news that it was the third bases - loaded homer in series history and the first since Tony Lazzeri "pooshed" one up for the Yanks in an 18-4 rout of the Giants on Oct. 2, 1936. That's the most lopsided score in series history, although the Yanks also won the finale that year, 13-5, on Oct. 6, both at the Polo Grounds.

Rizzuto's homer came after Woodling walked in the fourth. Phil reached for an outside pitch by Kennedy and punched the ball into the right field stands, just inside the foul pole at the 257-foot mark.

Two singles plus an error by Clint Hartung, a desperation move in right field against a lefty, set up another run off Spencer in the sixth. Johnny Mize double made it 9-1.

Four more came rolling home in the seventh when Spencer walked Rizzuto with the bases full, Al Corwin wild pitched Joe Collins across and DiMaggio's double delivered two.

Mize, starting his first game, was due to remain in the line-up even against Koslo. Gerry Coleman was to play second with McDougald returning to third and Hank Bauer replacing Collins in right field.

Durocher expected to return Hank Thompson to right field, benching the inept Hartung.

Mid-Six Reaches Showdown Stage

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, O., Oct. 10—Action in the Mid-Six League reaches its crossroads this Friday. The sign posts at those crossroads read "Championhip Avenue" or "Also Ran Alley."

There will be no argument over which game gets top billing this week. The big issue is scheduled at Westerville where the Wildcats hope to be anything but a cordial host to London's Red Raiders.

This contest has championship written all over it. It could be a case of Irresistible vs. Immovable. Both teams were earmarked as pre-season co-favorites, and neither has faltered yet in four outings.

The second league fray sends Grove City (0-2) to Marysville (1-1). The visiting Greyhounds looked very good in their pre-league play, but have been trounced very hard in two league games. The host Monarchs hope to gain the services of star halfback, Jim Kleiber, for the first time in three weeks Friday night.

Worthington and Hilliards round out this week's M.S.L. schedule on the latter's gridiron.

MID-SIX STANDINGS

	W.	L.	Pts	Opp.
London	2	0	108	27
Westerville	2	0	68	13
Marysville	1	1	20	27
Hilliards	1	1	24	54
Grove City	0	2	7	82
Worthington	0	2	19	68

The Chinese drilled wells more than 1,000 years ago.

ROOKIE HITS GRAND SLAMMER. Gil McDougald, fine young Yankee rookie infielder, trots across home plate after blasting a grand slam home run, third in World Series history, in the third inning of the fifth game with the Giants in the all-New York series. Greeting him are Yogi Berra (8) and Johnny Mize (36) who, with Joe DiMaggio, were on base.

Brady Ill; Finnegan, Smith Return

Harding Loses Back, Irish Gain Two Men

Harding will be without the services of one of its hardest charging backs Friday night against Lima South while St. Mary will be bolstered by the return to action of two first stringers.

Chris Brady, first string halfback for the Prexies, probably will sit out the Lima tilt. Coach Pete Howison said today. The speedy runner has been laid up this week by an illness and little hope is seen for his return to the lineup.

Dave Smith and Jim Finnegan are expected to return to the Irish lineup Saturday against Columbus St. Mary. Finnegan saw some action last week at Tiffin Calvert but Smith, the Irish's first string linebacker, was out with a sprained ankle suffered two weeks ago against Lima St. Rose.

The Presidents came through the 27-27 tie with Fostoria with no serious injuries. Some of the gridders suffered minor bruises but have recovered and are set for action against Lima.

The absence of Smith probably was the biggest loss suffered by Ray Robbins' crew this season. Playing without their top linebacker, the Irish played perhaps their best game of the season in losing to a Tiffin Calvert powerhouse, 33-14.

Finnegan, the first string fullback, was stopped last week by a broken finger suffered in a practice session last week. He played only part of the game last week but should be able to go the route Saturday.

Prexies Score 16th Straight In Track

Harding High School's topflight cross country track team raced to its 16th consecutive win yesterday at Mansfield, 15-47. The local harriers took the first five places for the third straight meet.

John Ashworth returned to the win column as he raced over the former state meet course in 10:53 5 Ted Price who is pace setter for the Prexie runners, barely nosed out teammate Frank Green with a time of 11.04.

Dick Coulson, Dee Price and Dick Bollinger gave Harding a clean sweep of the top six spots and continued to lower their running times. Joe Thomas finished out Harding's top seven men with a good time after recovering from last week's cold.

Harding will be host to Fremont Ross tomorrow at the Marion Country Club. The meet scheduled for 4 p.m. will mark the first time the two schools have met for a cross country run.

Charles, Layne Confident Of Wins Tonight

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 10—(AP)—Ezzard Charles, confident he'll be the first fighter ever to regain the heavyweight boxing title, meets his first big test in stock Rex Layne tonight in a 12-round bout at Forbes Field.

Both were knocked out in their last fights. Charles lost his heavyweight crown to aging Jersey Joe Walcott via a seven round knockout. Layne was flattened by Rocky Marciano in six rounds.

Charles predicts he'll win. So does Layne. But neither will commit themselves how they intend doing it. Both blame overwork for their poor showings in July.

In picking Layne for his first comeback step, the former champion can look for a stiff test. Layne's young and he packs plenty of power in both fists. He's proved that with 34 victories, 24 of them by knockouts.

The 10 p.m. (E.S.T.) bout will be piped by C.B.S. on television and radio except in the Pittsburgh and Johnstown (Pa.) areas.

Voted Week's Top Linemen

NEW YORK, Oct. 10—(AP)—Pay Cannamela, southern California guard, and Jack Little, Texas A. & M. tackle, were picked today as the linemen of the week in the first Associated Press linemen poll for the 1951 football season.

Cannamela gained defensive honors for his work in helping to stop the University of Washington in an important Pacific Coast Conference game at Seattle. Little took the offensive laurels for his sterling play against Oklahoma at College Station, Tex.

Picks Bucks Over Badgers

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 10—(AP)—Coming out for another round of Midwest football forecasting (to date 13 wins, 3 losses, 1 tie):

Notre Dame 21 S.M.U. 14—The Mustangs should slow 'em down, but even the breezy passing of Fred Benners doesn't figure to cool off the fired-up young men of Frank Leahy . . .

Ohio State 20 Wisconsin 19—some of the Badgers' key men are patched up after that bruising 14-0 losing engagement at Illinois . . . The Buckeyes, making their first conference start have added strength with the elgibility of Fullback Johnny Hlay . . . this is enough to make Ohio a bare favorite over a fine Wisconsin team that could win, and by so doing, surprise nobody.

Others in a hurry:

Indiana 14 Michigan 7; Northwestern 20 Minnesota 13; Illinois 27 Syracuse 14; Michigan State 34 Marquette 6; Iowa 27 Pitt 13, Purdue 14 Miami 13 (Friday night).

AMBASSADOR HOME. Returning to the U. S. for the first time since 1949, American Ambassador to Denmark Mrs. Eugenie Anderson arrives at New York's Idlewild Airport from Copenhagen. Enroute to Washington for routine consultations, Mrs. Anderson reported that the Danes had accepted the North Altantic Treaty although it ended Denmark's 100-year policy of neutrality.

Driver Hurt At Speedway

Jaw Broken When Racer Overturns

William Morgan, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan of Nevada, was injured in an accident Sunday during races at the Marion Speedway north of the city.

He was driver of the car which overturned when the steering mechanism broke down. Morgan was thrown from the car and lit on his face. He sustained a broken jaw and other head injuries.

Morgan was taken to the Marion City Hospital for treatment and to a Marion dentist for examination. He was then taken to University Hospital in Columbus where he is now a patient. He is reported in serious condition. He was formerly employed at the Kellogg Implement Co. in Nevada.

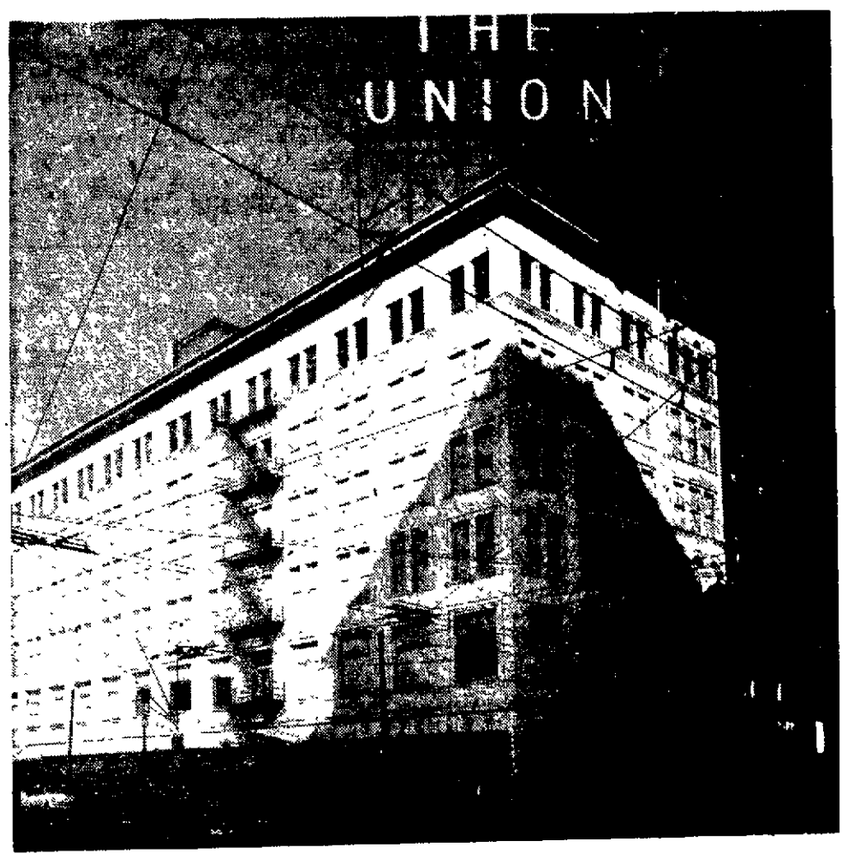
THE UNION COMPANY
(An Ohio Corporation)
5% SINKING FUND BONDS

Dated Oct. 1, 1951 Due Oct. 1, 1966

Interest payable semi-annually—April 1 and Oct. 1 of each year



The Union's Main Store in Downtown Columbus.

All Around the Town

BUSINESS: The Union Company is a store which literally can be found "all around the town." With its main store in the heart of Columbus, it has branch outlets in two outlying neighborhoods and soon will open a third. All are well stocked with many items of wearing apparel and accessories for men, women, boys and girls, plus gifts and luggage.

Columbus residents have been buying from The Union Company since the spring of 1895, when S. M. Levy opened a clothing store for men and boys at the corner of Long and High Streets. It was known as The Union Clothing Company.

In 1908, ladies' wearing apparel and accessories were added and, on July 7, 1913, the business was incorporated under laws of Ohio as The Union Company.

The Company's downtown store is still on the corner of Long and High Streets, but there is little resemblance to the small store which S. M. Levy opened 57 years ago. Today the store, now six floors, occupies 82,000 square feet of space.

EXPANSION: About 15 years ago, the Company opened its first branch—a "University Shop" in the Ohio State University area.

In 1949, Company officials saw a trend toward suburban stores and opened a second branch in the Lane Avenue Shopping Center in Upper Arlington, a suburb northwest of downtown Columbus.

A third branch store will be opened in the Town and Country Shopping Center on East Broad Street this autumn. This store will occupy 20,000 square feet.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: In connection with the opening of the new branch store, the Company has issued $500,000 of 5% sinking fund bonds. Net proceeds from the sale of the bonds also will be used for retirement of $300,000 of notes payable and to provide additional working capital for the Company.

EARNINGS: As shown by the audited Profit and Loss Statements for the period from January 31, 1945, to January 31, 1951, net profit available for interest has averaged more than $155,000 per annum which is 6.2 times the maximum annual interest requirement of $25,000 on the total outstanding funded debt of the Company.

MANAGEMENT: The officers and directors of the Company are S. M. Levy, Chairman of the Board; Robert K. Levy, Sr., President, Treasurer and Director; Herbert S. Levy, Vice President and Director; Harold H. Janssen, Secretary, Controller and Director; Philip A. Cohen, Legal Counselor and Director; and Bernice S. Levy and Annette K. Levy, Directors.

PRICE: $1000 PER $1000 BOND
(plus accrued interest)

SOVIET MOVES TO WOO IRAN. While the U. N., the U. S., Britain and Iran argue over Iranian oil, Russia is busy attempting to woo Iran away from the western nations. This map illustrates part of the reported Russian strategy. One Iranian official said his nation did not want to accept proffered Russian aid, but might be forced to. The Soviet ambassador to Tehran is busy.

New Financing Plan Announced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—(AP)—The Treasury announced today a new type of financing. It will sell up to $1,250,000,000 in "oills" which may be used to pay income taxes next March.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said offers to buy the new issue will be accept on Oct. 17. The 144-day bills will be dated October 23 and will mature next March 15.

The Treasury anticipates that government spending this fiscal year, ending next June 30, will be over $5,000,000,000 more than income.

By the new offer the Treasury is trying, in effect, to get and spend now much of the income tax money which normally would come in next March.

Soprano Soloist On Radio Program

Mrs. DeJon Morral Hassell, soprano soloist of the Marion Lecture-Recital Club, will be heard on the Central District, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, radio broadcast tonight at 8:30 over station WMRN. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Wills.

A former pupil of the Hast School of Music in Columbus, she has appeared on a number of programs throughout the state, and has sung frequently on radio broadcasts, and on telecasts over WTVN, Columbus.

Her numbers will include "All for You," Bertrand-Brown, "September Song," from the musical play, "Knickerbocker Holiday," "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal," lyric by Tennyson and musical setting by Quilter, "I Heard a Forest Praying," DeRose, and "The Holy Hour," Nevin.

DRIVER FINED $5

Russell M. Hurd of Columbus was fined $5 in Municipal Court today when he pleaded guilty to the charge of driving his car past the C. & O. railroad crossing gates at the West Columbia street crossing. He was arrested by police at 9:10 a.m. today.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your digestive tract every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the digestive tract. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, 37¢ at any druggists.

Liabilities in Your Business

When you balance your books, you set up the liabilities — what you owe — against assets and get a fairly accurate picture of how much the business is worth. Don't overlook the liabilities that may take a big bite out of assets when someone gets hurt and says you are at fault. You need insurance against such claims. Protect your assets with the right insurance. We write it.

HOW IS YOUR CORN CROP?
Good or Bad You Can't Afford To Leave Ears in the Field
It Pays To Use a
David Bradley Corn Picker
Consider These Features:
Shorter Turning Radius: Rigid semi-mounting on side turns with tractor like one machine
Practical for All Fields: Knocks down less corn; less waste
Picker in Full Sight: When attached, picker is part of tractor itself. Driver controls both at same time.
No Lost Corn on Turns: Clutch can be tripped where corn would overshoot wagon box
Good on Rough Ground: Balanced snouts controlled by handy lever to avoid high spots and to pick up "down" corn.
Four Slip Clutches: Reduce damage to picker.
Simpler Construction: Easier to grease and adjust—less time lost, less to go wrong. Parts always available at Sears
Quick, on and Off: Attaching and detaching is a simple, one-man operation
One or Two-Plow Tractor: Fits all popular tractors.
New Husking Bed: Delivers the cleanest corn under the most extreme conditions
BEFORE YOU BUY Stop at Sears Farm Store and see for yourself all of these features plus many others you must see to appreciate
FARM OWNERS SAY It's the safest and most efficient picker you can buy
THE PRICE IS RIGHT Let us arrange for a home demonstration in your own field

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The World Series was a pleasant relief from most Page One news . . . Nobody took a ham or a mink coat to flavor a decision.

And of all the men left on base, none were stranded there because the guy at bat was secretly working for the other side.

But now we're back to "Who said that?" featuring an all-star cast of contradictors.

Stassen got the roughest rebuttal when the State Department started to deny a conference he attended . . . two hours later even the State Department couldn't believe that one.

So then they admitted there was a conference but Stassen was wrong about what happened at it . . . so far they haven't produced a stenographer who "happened to be taking notes outside the door."

* * *

Or that accidental practice may not have been started until the Wake Island conference.

Rip Kirby — By Alex Raymond.

THERE'S THE BLUE MEDITERRANEAN BELOW, DES!
BEAUTIFUL, SIR. I CAN'T HELP HOPING YOU WON'T FIND MISS BIJOU BENSON FOR A FEW DAYS AT LEAST!
WE ARE ALWAYS HAPPY TO COOPERATE WITH THE AMERICAN AUTHORITIES... COME THIS WAY, M'SIEU'...
I'M CHIEFLY INTERESTED IN EXAMINING HER CAMERA...
PREFECTURE DE POLICE
VERY INTERESTING! A ROLE OF EXPOSED FILM!

Superman — By Wayne Boring

THIS IS A LOT OF NONSENSE, GENTLEMEN! SUPPOSE I DON'T AGREE TO COME ALONG TO THE METROPOLIS LIBRARY WITH YOU?
THAT WOULD BE AN OBVIOUS ADMISSION OF YOUR IDENTITY...
YEAH, AND WE WOULDN'T HAVE TO BOTHER WAITING TO SEE IF SUPERMAN SHOWED UP OR NOT.
SINCE YOU PUT IT THAT WAY, GENTLEMEN, I'LL PLAY ALONG WITH YOU. I HAVE NO DESIRE TO BE SUPERMAN BY DEFAULT.
"MY CONSCIENCE IS CLEAR. IT'S UP TO SUPERMAN NOW!"

Gasoline Alley — By Frank King

Ambrose has become right chummy with Miss Darb, Phyllis.
He's unattached. That's no morsel.
I know, but at this time his mind should be on business.
What I'm worried about, Walt, is Judy. Roger is three years older than she is.
He seems nice, but he didn't even finish high school.
He won't last. He's about to lose out to the whole football squad.

Joe Palooka — By Ham Fisher

WHAT KIND OF A PARADE IS THAT, WILLIAM? DO THEY WALK THAT WAY AS A SPECIAL EXERCISE?
I REALLY DON'T KNOW, EMILY...
AWRIGHT YA DIDN'T DO NO DAMAGE ON TH' WAY IN.. BUT YA BETTER NOT BREAK NO PLATES ER GLASSES!
MEBBE YA'D LIKE IT BETTER.. WE DON'T EVEN EAT, HUH?
WOTTA LAY-OUT!
GO AHEAD AND EAT, BOYS. YOU WON'T HURT ANYTHING.
HAM FISHER

Terry and the Pirates — By George Wunder

TERRY! YOU BLOW YOUR STACK? GET IN— THE RED PATROL WILL BE HERE— QUICK!
I'M SENIOR ON THIS MISSION, CHAZZ... HEAD FOR THE SUB— THAT'S AN ORDER!
B-BUT...
THAT RUBBER BUCKET CAN'T OUTRUN SMALL ARMS FIRE — AND THE REDS ARE BOUND TO SPOT IT IN THE MOONLIGHT...
...UNLESS I GIVE 'EM SOMETHING ELSE TO THINK ABOUT!
GEORGE WUNDER

The Gumps — By Gus Edson

SLO-BURN LOTION COMPANY
A GUMP PRESIDENT
SEEING IS BELIEVING... ANDY BRAGG SO MUCH, I'M CURIOUS.
ER... I WISH TO SEE MR. GUMP...
IF YOU HAVE NO APPOINTMENT, I'M AFRAID IT'S IMPOSSIBLE... MR. GUMP IS A VERY BUSY MAN...
I AM MRS. GUMP...
VERY WELL... JUST A MINUTE, MRS. GUMP.. I'LL SEE IF HE CAN SQUEEZE YOU IN...
